Indonesian Targets Blasted by Dutch

BATAVIA, July 21 (INS)—The Netherlands East Indies Air Force swung into action against embattled Indonesian Republicans today and Indonesian Premier Sjarifoed, in a broadcast from the Republican capital of Jogjakarta, called for an all-out defense. Dutch aircraft had attacked airfields on Java and Sumatra. The Republicans said seven separate targets had been attacked.

Heavy fighting was raging at Bandung, Semarang and Soerabaya. The population of Batavia was informed that all carrying of arms is forbidden.

Elements of the 90,000-man Dutch army, with modern equipment and considerable air power, went into action this morning following collapse of negotiations to establish an interim government for all Indonesia.

Sjarifoed accused the Netherlands of violating the truce which prevailed and said they also violated all principles advocated by the United Nations.

The Republican premier said it will be "impossible to subdue the hate and revenge on the hearts of our people."

Dutch forces were driving from Soerabaya toward the hill city of Malang, 45 miles to the south.

Antara, a Republican news agency, reported before its Batavia office was taken over by Dutch troops, that a Netherlands warship and amphibious plane arrived in the harbor of Cheribon, in northern Java.

Britain Offers to Aid In Indonesia Dispute

LONDON, July 21 (AP)—The Foreign Office announced today that Britain—after consultation with the United States—had notified the Netherlands government that both nations were prepared to act toward a settlement of the Dutch-Indonesian conflict.

The statement said Britain felt disappointment over the breakdown in negotiations.

New Bombs May Produce Man-Made Earthquakes

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—The Army Air Forces is developing and probably will test in the next few months a 42,000-pound super-size bomb. So far as is known, this will be the largest standard explosive—that is, non-atomic—missile ever made.

The weight of the bomb suggests it is intended for use in such aircraft as the B-36, capable of carrying 36 tons of explosives and equipped with an enormous bomb bay.

The AAF had even larger bombs—one of 100,000 pounds—under consideration, but a curtailed research program shelved them.

They described the 42,000-pounder as a "general purpose, blockbuster" type.

There was also a hint that the military may be looking into the future for an even more fearful

Chandler Loses New Trial Plea

Motions for a suspension of judgment and a new trial for Douglas Chandler, convicted of treasonous broadcasts from Germany during the war, were denied today by Federal Judge Francis J. W. Ford.

The court set no date for sentencing the expatriate American ex-Newsman, now in East Cambridge jail. In arguing the motions last week, counsel for Chandler challenged the court's jurisdiction and asked for the new trial on the basis of psychiatric evidence.

weapon—an atomic bomb which when dropped from a high altitude might sink deep into the earth and produce a man-made quake.

The extent to which deep penetration bombs can bore into the earth as demonstrated during the latter days of the war when Britain's Royal Air Force caved in a tunnel 135 feet below ground.

Some atomic scientists are reported to want to test an atomic bomb touched off below the earth's surface. One theory is that the shock waves would tumble buildings over a much greater area than in any air-burst method.

Nab Burma Ex-Chief as Assassin

RANGOON, Burma, July 21 (AP)—Burmese police held former Premier U Saw and 19 of his lieutenants today after killing three of the opposition leader's followers in a gun fight at his home when they arrested the group in connection with the Saturday massacre of seven council ministers.

U Saw—leader of the Myochit party—was held under heavy guard in the Rangoon central jail while authorities imposed a dusk to dawn curfew on the city.

Authorities said the raid on the former premier's home was led by Ba Maung, inspector general of Burma police. A violent gun fight ensued before U Saw and his followers surrendered. During the battle three Myochit party members were killed.

Officials said a search of U Saw's house unearthed a cache of arms and ammunition.

The Burmese press said nearly 50 persons all told had been arrested as a result of the assassinations of Maj. Gen. U Aung San and six fellow ministers who were cut down by machine-gun fire during a meeting of the nine-man executive council in Government House Saturday morning. Six of the victims died soon after the attack and a seventh, Sao Sam Hteen Sawba, succumbed the next day.

Among those reported held was Thakin Ba Sein, leader of the Dobaama Asiayone party.

A new ministry was sworn in to replace the slain members. The government announced that Thakin Nu, leader of the Constituent Assembly and one of Aung San's aides in the anti-Fascist People's Freedom League, took the oath as deputy chairman of the executive council.

Reich, Jap Ship Grant Plan Told

NEW YORK, July 21 (INS)—The American Merchant Marine Institute maintained today that rebirth of the German and Japanese merchant fleets banned under the Potsdam agreement, may occur as a result of measures now being studied by Congress.

The Institute declared it has been proposed to give Germany 75 American Liberty ships purportedly to be used as transports for relief cargoes and Army equipment.

The ships would be chartered, managed and manned by Germans, supplanting 3000 American officers and seamen with aliens. A similar number of ships would be turned over the Japanese eventually, it was pointed out.

against British rule. The curfew becomes effective tonight.

Shortly before the decree was issued, Palestine extremists struck a double-blow at radar installations used for intercepting blockade-runners carrying illegal immigrants to the Holy Land.

Only a matter of hours after daring assaults upon police and infantry division headquarters in the Jerusalem and Tel Aviv areas, heavily-armed Jewish extremists attacked and tried to demolish two radar stations in the Haifa area.

At least one of the raiders was killed and several others were wounded along with four Palestine policemen in the twin-raids which, according to unofficial reports, resulted in destruction of several of the radar-masts.

In what may have been a diversionary operation, some four or five extremists first attacked the "Siela Mari" cantonment of the British sixth airborne division.

Armed with machine guns "and other weapons," the raiders tried to pin down the garrison while 15 other assailants tried to blow up the radar station situated on a wooded hillside above Haifa.

After mining the region around the military camp, other underground commandos launched an attack on the radar station at Haifa. This lies south of Haifa, north Palestinian port used for transferring uncertified immigrants to deportation ships.

In the Ahuza raid, a number of masts were reported blown down, though official announcement of damages was not released immediately.

Authorities did announce, however, that one of the terrorists—Moshe Airkin—died of wounds suffered during the attack on the airborne troopers' headquarters.

Jointly, the series of attacks kept the resumption of the underground campaign against British rule.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE AGAR
Actress Is Awaiting Stork

Shirley Temple Confirms Stork Rumors

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD, July 21 (INS)—Shirley Temple is going to have a baby.

It's often been rumored, but this time it's official. The famous actress, who married John Agar on September, 1945, will become a mother in January.

At a party given at the Temple home in Brentwood, Shirley announced to her family and to her close friends the happy impending event.

She is to leave immediately to join the John Ford company "War Party" in which she and her husband are both appearing. The Ford picture will be the last she will make until after the birth of her baby.

Only a few weeks ago this writer heard that Shirley had made a date with the stork, but it was emphatically denied by her mother. In fact, I might even say indignantly.

plunge on wine, women, song and horses.

The accused, John J. Byrne, 33, of Sacramento st., Cambridge, arrested at gunpoint in a summer cottage at Hampton Beach, N. H., is understood to have waived extradition after making a signed confession.

A young Lowell girl, who police said had fallen for Byrne's persuasive line and appearance of wealth, was with him in the Ocean blvd. cottage at the beach when the law finally caught up with him. She was released after convincing officials she was in no way involved in the theft.

According to Hampton and Cambridge officials, the accused man signed a confession in which he detailed the crimson trail he blazed at night clubs and racetracks through New York, Jamaica, Philadelphia and New Hampshire. The alleged confession was turned over to Detectives Charles Hogan and Milton Curtis of the Rochester police.

During the nearly two months search for the fugitive, Byrne leisurely toured the racetracks along the East coast. At one time he was living comfortably at a Boston hotel and visiting Suffolk Downs daily, police learned.

The theft was unusual in that Byrne, a chef at a Rochester restaurant, while placing a small amount of money in the night deposit box of the bank, noticed another larger bag containing the $11,800, and $700 in checks stuck in the chute. This was on May 23.

In the confession he gave to Cambridge Police Capt. Patrick F. Ready and Inspector Joseph J. Breen, Byrne said he was married and the father of two boys, 7 and 4. He said his marriage turned out unfortunately and that he had not seen his wife for three years. Byrne blamed his present plight on his marital troubles, asserting he "never would have been in this mess if his home life had been happy."

His confession, as given out by police, reads:

"On May 23, at 9 p. m., I went to a bank I believe to be the Central Trust in Rochester to make a deposit of the day's receipts for Gray's Main st. restaurant in Rochester, N. Y. This was part of my regular duty working for

MRS. RUTH ALMA CABE, 18
Bride Dying After Plane Crash

State Opens Fight on Low Flying

The Massachusetts Aeronautics Commission today enlisted the aid of State, metropolitan and local police in a campaign against low level flying, following the plane crash at Ipswich yesterday which caused the death of a Navy seaman and left his passenger-wife, Mrs. Ruth Alma Cabe, 18, of Highland ter., Roxbury, seriously injured.

Her husband, J. D. Cabe, 22, of Greenville, S. C., a crew member of the USS Mindoro, aircraft carrier at the Charleston Navy Yard, crashed on Crane's Beach, near the Essex river, after flying low over 10,000 bathers. His wife, who had been married to him only five weeks ago, was taken to Cabot Memorial Hospital, Ipswich.

Crocker Snow, head of the Aeronautics Commission, urged police and bathers as well to report all instances of "buzzing," the dangerously low-level flying which is a violation of the law.

Such offenders will be prosecuted to the limit, Snow declared. William T. Morrissey, chairman of the Metropolitan District Commission, today ordered a teletype message to all MDC stations for police to be on the alert for the buzzer-pilots.

Gov. Bradford on the executive council recently took cognizance of the increasing low-level stunting and asked the MDC to line up co-operation with local authorities with a view toward prosecuting the fliers who fly under the 1000-foot ceiling over crowds.

Snow said today an examination the plane disclosed no mechanical defects accountable for the crash yesterday.

The aircraft was rented from Revere Airways at Revere Airport and Cabe held a private pilot's license.

Julius Goldman, general manager of the Revere Airways, said witnesses told him that the plane had swooped so low in several dives across the beach that the backwash of the propeller threw up clouds of sand.

Reconstructing the crash from stories told by witnesses, Goldman said Cabe apparently did a wing-over after skimming the beach, thus losing speed and control of the plane. He said an examination of the wreckage indicated the motor was going full speed at the time of the accident.

Fall River Legion Has $25,000 Fire

FALL RIVER, July 21—Fire caused damage of $25,000 this morning to the Wainman Bldg., a three-story brick structure in the heart of the business district.

Firemen responding to two alarms confined the flames to the top floor quarters of the American Legion but water and smoke damage extended to lower floors.

Fire Chief George E. McGraw said the fire was presumed to have had its origin in the Legion rooms, the flames breaking out in smoldering seat upholstery in a game room.

4 Probers to Hear How U.S. Reds Sift Into Armed Forces

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—A promise of "startling revelations of Communist penetration into practically every phase of American life" was held out by a witness scheduled to appear today before the House committee on un-American activities.

Walter S. Steele, chairman of the national security committee of the American Coalition of Patriotic, Civic and Fraternal Societies, said the penetration includes the American armed forces.

He was due to take the witness stand as the committee began the first of five days of public hearings billed as a general investigation of Communism.

Steele did not make public his testimony in advance, but said in a statement it would cover 225 typewritten pages, plus 375 pages of "documentary evidence."

Saying he would provide the names of Communists "who held important posts in the U. S. armed forces" during World War II, Steele's statement added that "many of these men are now on reserve, subject to service in case of another war."

"Their loyalty is to the Soviet Union," the statement declared, giving this quotation from the witness' prepared testimony:

"The most alarming phase of the situation is the manner in which these forces penetrated our armed services, and the fact that our government permits in the United States the functioning of a reserved (SIC) armed force whose loyalty is to another power."

The statement added without amplification that Steele "commended the War Dept.'s recent move to counter its past laxity."

"Communist conspirators are equally active in civil life in many fields," the pre-testimony statement said. "In politics, labor, education, youth, alien born, feminine, racial, agricultural, professional and cultural fields. Communists are busily corrupting public opinion and misleading many well-intentioned citizens."

Salem Youth Shot, Lynn Man Seized

Several hours after Richard Warren Lutta, 23, of Dearborn st., Salem, a University of Maine student, was rushed to Salem Hospital in critical condition with a bullet wound in the side, police arrested a Lynn man as his assailant early today.

He was identified as Joseph Patrick Bowers, 32, employed as resident caretaker at the North Shore Babies' Hospital in Salem.

Doctors at Salem Hospital operated on Lutta, and removed a 22 caliber bullet from his kidney.

Lutta's name was placed on the danger list, and today his condition was reported as only fair following a night of treatment during which he failed to rally.

Detectives began search for a second man said to have been in the company of Bowers and wanted as a witness.

The caretaker, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon, is due to be arraigned in Salem court.

Police said the shooting was over the question of whether Bowers and his companion were trespassing on land owned by Carlton Lutta, father of the victim.

Rh Test Shows Baby Not Husband's Child

NEW YORK, July 21—The old adage, "Blood will tell," has been tested scientifically here for the first time in American legal history by an RH blood factor test to determine if a man were the father of his wife's child—and confirmed in a case which revealed another man as the father.

The RH blood factor test, discovered by doctors in 1940, became a precedent in court paternity cases through its acceptance by Justice Jacob Panken in Kings County Family Court.

Involved were a couple married in 1943. The girl was 16. Ten weeks later she bore a child. The husband, 20, knew she was pregnant when he married her. Yet he was not certain it was his child she carried. Domestic disagreements finally brought them before Justice Penken and it was blood that told the true story.

In releasing the husband from the responsibility of fatherhood, Justice Panken philosophized:

"Men have been deceived by women, perhaps not as often as women have been deceived by men, but it is not uncommon for men to be imposed upon. Nor does the fact that a mother swears that a husband is the father of her child foreclose him from disputing it as a fact."

A witness in the case was Dr. Alexander H. Weiner, co-discoverer of the RH blood factor with the late Karl Landsteiner, through studies with East Indian monkeys. They gave human blood two general classifications, RH positive and RH negative.

It was discovered in refining these generalizations that persons belonging to certain blood groups could not have children belonging to certain other blood groups.

It was this fact, demonstrated by the RH blood factor test, that revealed the husband in the case here could not have been the father of his wife's baby.

He was absolved of paternity even though he previously had signed a paper recognizing the child was his, an act performed prior to the legal clash with his wife.

Justice Panken awarded the wife $12 a week for support in order that she might not become a public charge, but he refused to order the husband to pay her alimony for the child's support.

The names of the couple were not disclosed by the court.

Overell Jury Hears Clock Ace

SANTA ANA, Cal., July 21 (AP)—The State today opened the final phase of what Prosecutor Eugene Williams characterizes as the "scientific evidence" against Louise Overell, 18, heiress, and her fiancé, George Gollum, accused of budgeoning to death her parents and dynamiting their yacht.

Roger Greene, criminologist of the State Dept. of Investigation, resumed the stand to tell the jury of photomicrographs, he made of household alarm clocks, one of which the State alleges the young couple used to time the explosion in the hope of destroying evidence of their crime.

Greene was to be followed by Ray Pinker, Los Angeles police chemist. Pinker is the No. 1 identification witness for the prosecution as virtually all the physical evidence in the case was turned over to him for chemical analysis.

Williams said he would request permission of the court today to conduct a demonstration of the State's conception of how the blast occurred.

Greene would rig the alarm clock to a battery and a photoflash bulb, the bulb taking the place of the 33 sticks of dynamite the prosecution claims were wired to the battery.

William Harper, Pasadena criminologist; Clark Sellers, handwriting expert, and P. B. Candela, authority on blood types, will wind up the scientific phase of the prosecution, after which an attempt will be made to have admitted as evidence letters allegedly exchanged between George and Louise in jail.

Prosecutor Williams contends that the letters show the motive for the killing; that Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Overell objected to their daughter's scheduled marriage to Gollum.

Youth Routed by Showgirls Quizzed on Hub Breaks

Captured when he tangled with a feminine song and dance team in an attempted handbag theft an 18-year-old South End race track addict was linked today with three holdups and was questioned about burglaries in the downtown area.

Police said they found several pawn tickets in his room in Canton st., and began checking there against loot taken in breaks recently.

He allegedly confessed to robbing three taxi drivers and attempting another taxi holdup.

The youth told him he worked as an elevator operator in a downtown building and lost his week's pay betting on the horses, Special Officer Joseph Curran said.

He allegedly tried to recoup his fortunes by nabbing the handbags of two girls he saw walking on a deserted stretch of Clarendon st., and who looked like "easy pickings."

His intended victims were Joyce King, a dancer, and Ronnie Williams, a singer, both 28, who live in a Boylston st. hotel and put on a song and dance act at nightclubs here and in Providence.

The youth failed in his first effort to take the singer's handbag, then made the mistake of grappling with Miss King.

Joyce said she did no pushing but instead gave him battle.

"I'm a dancer," she told police, "and I went right along with him as he aimed punches. When he swung, I followed through and swung with him."

Meanwhile Ronnie wasn't idle, as it turned out. Ronnie was skipping around on the edge of the battle, taking swings with her handbag and whacking the assailant lustily on the head.

The battle raged back and forth across the wide sidewalk, with the girls not forgetting to scream and with their screams finally heard by three policemen in a radio prowler.

Sgt. Robert Hayhurst, with Paul Lowell and John J. Harkins came roaring up in the police machine, abruptly ending the fight.

Joyce told police she had about $40 in her handbag and Ronnie had somewhere close to the same amount.

2 Farm Workers Slain at School

BADEN, Pa., July 21 (AP)—Two elderly farm workers at an exclusive boys' school were found slain over the week-end and State police said the killings took place two days apart.

Joseph Neugebauer, 72, beaten and dying, was found by a nun at St. Gallitzin Academy, while strolling on the campus.

Matthew Magana, 69, was found dead when a quarters housing the school's farm employees were searched.

A third man, Magana's roommate, was sought for questioning.

Brockton Man Held As Holdup Suspect

A 26-year-old Brockton man, arrested in Charlestown on suspicion of stealing the car he was in, was questioned at police headquarters today in connection with the armed robbery of $500 from a Dorchester liquor clerk and three customers.

Charles Busby, the clerk, said the suspect was one of two bandits who struck him over the head during the robbery. Busby's empty wallet was found near the auto when the suspect was arrested.

Hospitalized as Auto, Police Cruiser Crash

Following a crash in South Boston in which a police cruiser and an auto were wrecked and a house damaged, three girls, two policemen and two sailors were hospitalized today.

Most seriously hurt was Marie Flaherty, 21, of D st., South Boston, on the danger list at City Hospital with a compound fracture of the skull and numerous cuts. She was thrown from a convertible coupe by the impact and struck her head on the curbstone.

Jeanette Snyder, 16, of Athens st., South Boston, and Jean Madden of Queensbury st., Back Bay, are at the same hospital, the former with a broken wrist and the Madden girl with a broken ankle.

Patrolmen James McTigue, 39, of Electric ave., Brighton, and Francis O'Mara, 30, of Church st., Dorchester, were also taken to City Hospital, both with brain concussions and cuts and bruises.

Two sailors, Robert Shamback, 20, and Anthony Egan, 22, both attached to the U. S. S. Albatross now at the Charlestown Navy Yard, are at Chelsea Naval Hospital. Shamback has a brain concussion and his shipmate cuts on the head and hands.

Howard Publicover, 22, of Park Drive, Back Bay, who was in the coupe with the three girls and two sailors, escaped serious injury but was thrown to the pavement by the impact.

The coupe bounced off the police car and hit a house so hard it tore away bricks, broke a water pipe and shook the foundation, police said. They stated the house would be examined today for structural defects.

The crash occurred at West Third and E sts.

MRS. ALFRED W. INGALLS, MATRON RUTH WARRINER
Former Lynn Woman Faces Jail in Slave Case

Mrs. Ingalls Nears Breakdown in Jail

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 21 (INS)—Mrs. Elizabeth Ingalls, jailed after a federal court jury convicted her of enslaving her Negro maid, Dora Jones, was on the verge of a nervous collapse today.

Two physicians who examined the 62-year-old Massachusetts socialite at the county jail reported she was suffering from hysteria and was in a serious condition. The physicians are Drs. Gerald F. Banks of San Diego and William T. Booth of Coronado.

The elderly woman is facing a possible sentence of five years in prison or a $5000 fine or both.

She was forced to go to jail when Federal Judge Jacob Weinberger refused to allow her to remain at liberty on $2500 bail pending a motion for a new trial or an appeal.

The jury of nine men and three women which found her guilty was unable to agree on the slavery charge against her husband, Alfred W. Ingalls, and was discharged. The jurors were eight to four in favor of acquittal in his case.

Ingalls, a member of an old New England family and a former member of the Massachusetts Legislature, is at liberty on $2500 bail pending a decision on whether he will be tried again.

Judge Weinberger set July 29 as the date for sentencing Mrs. Ingalls.

Defense Atty. Clifford K. Fitzgerald served notice that a new trial would be sought, and, failing in this, that the case would be appealed.

The Ingalls, testifying in their own defense, admitted a prosecution charge that the diminutive Alabama Negress had not been paid since her first year of service, but contended that she was "a member of the family" and has received compensation in other ways.

The Negress herself testified that after her affair with Mrs. Ingalls' first husband she felt "I owed my life to Mrs. Ingalls, and she thought so, too."

Both of Mrs. Ingalls' married daughters appeared as witnesses for the government against their mother.

Lame Girl Walks After Shrine Visit

NEW YORK, July 21 (INS)—Sally Ann O'Leary, 12, of Wilkinsburg, Pa., crippled since birth, was back in the U. S. today from her journey to the shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes in France—minus her crutches and braces.

The girl, who was certain a miracle could cure her, walked alone down a plane ramp upon her arrival last night.

Several of the 20 pilgrims—all from the Pittsburgh area—testified that the child had walked a mile unaided at Lourdes shortly after having bathed in the famed waters of the shrine.

Sally's mother, Mrs. Ellen O'Leary of Wilkinsburg, declared nine spinal operations had failed to help the child, who was stricken with paralysis as an infant.

Barnes to Hand Down Ruling On Disabled WAC's Tax Claim

Atty. Gen. Clarence A. Barnes today began a study of the law to determine the validity of Tax Comr. Henry F. Long's ruling, excluding ex-servicewomen from the $2000 income tax exemption law for disabled veterans. Barnes will later hand down a ruling on the issue.

This was disclosed by Asst. Atty. Gen. William Gardner Perrin, who said the tax commissioner's edict may be individually appealed to the State Appellate Tax Board.

Meanwhile, the central figure in the controversy, an attractive Pittsfield ex-WAC, denied an exemption on her home, planned to initiate court action which she said she would take to the country's highest tribunal.

She is Mrs. Louise F. Nelson of Monroe st., who with her husband, Robert, is receiving government compensation for service-connected disabilities.

Although the Attorney General has promised an opinion of the law, which denies Mrs. Nelson and any other disabled ex-servicewomen a tax exemption benefit, a spokesman in his office said he doubted Barnes would be able to clarify the situation.

Aside from individual appeals to the State Appellate Tax Board and the Attorney-General's opinion, "corrective legislation," this spokesman said, was the only answer to the legal snarl.

Meanwhile, Comr. Long hinted that because of the specific reading of the law which says "soldiers and sailors" may apply for the exemptions, other disabled veterans may not be qualified.

Asked if the law would exempt Marines and Coast Guardsmen who suffered service-connected disabilities, the tax commissioner answered: "I would say so. Other veterans legislation, particularly the state bonus law, included all service people. This law, as written, can apply only to soldiers and sailors."

Long in his letter to Mrs. Nelson, declared that she could not be classed as a "soldier or sailor" and therefore was not entitled to receive the exemption.

Tydings Blames GOP For Logjam in Congress

BALTIMORE, July 21 (INS).—Sen. Tydings (D.) of Maryland, charged the present congressional logjam is due to the fact the Republican leadership has spent more time investigating the Administration than attending to regular legislative business.

Tydings said in a radio address that the $4,000,000,000 income tax reduction bill was passed a second time despite Pres. Truman's veto of the original measure because the Republican majority was anxious to "put the President in the hole."

Msgr. Sheen Explains Stand on Psychiatry

NEW YORK, July 21—The Rt. Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, professor of philosophy at the Catholic University of America, today outlined his stand on psychiatry, psychoanalysis and Freudianism, in replying to a statement of Dr. Frank J. Curran, who resigned as chief psychiatrist at St. Vincent's Hospital and of other positions in the archdiocese of New York.

not the Catholic Church and science, nor have I ever presented myself as the spokesman of the church on the subject of psychiatry except to praise it when it remains within the limits of the scientific. Catholics in psychiatry do not make Freudianism Catholic any more than Catholics in physics make atomic bombs moral.

"I am, however, a spokesman of the Catholic Church when I say that any positive denial of sin on the part of Freudian psychoanalysis renders that science inadequate for the handling of the problems which affect the whole man.

"My criticism of psychoanalysis as a substitute for the confessional, because it substituted sublimation for absolution, was not nearly as universal a criticism as that made against the whole Freudian position by such philosophers as William Ernest Hocking, or by Arthur Koestler, who criticizes Freud because 'freedom as a datum of experience hardly plays any role in the Freudian system,' or by Reinhold Niebuhr, who describes Freud 'arriving at conclusions as nihilistic in their character as Nietzsche,' or by Dr. Alexander R. McLean, of the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., who asks: 'Can we, through some distorted psychiatric concepts, excuse the loss of civilian virtues—morals; should we disguise our psychiatric failures and thus lose the scientific virtue—truth?'

"In commenting on the 'distortion' of his previous stand on psychiatry, Msgr. Sheen remarked that he also had read in print that he had sailed for Europe. "I do hope that the other false report in the newspaper to the effect that I sailed for Europe on July 9 to attend the educational conference in Ireland will not provoke a series of letters to the press denouncing my stand on education in Ireland, my want of respect for England by taking an American boat, or my want of love for America by sailing to a foreign country, or my hatred of the Spaniards by visiting the Irish."

Dr. Curran, informed of Msgr. Sheen's statement, said it was unfortunate it had not been made earlier as "it would have avoided all difficulties."

40 Shaken Up in Trolley Crash

Forty passengers on a Mattapan-bound Elevated street car were shaken up last night when the car collided with an auto on Blue Hill ave., near Glenway st., Dorchester.

Police rushed two ambulances but all persons refused hospital treatment. Elevated operator Henry MacDonald received lacerations about the face from flying glass and was taken to a private physician.

East Milton Youth Held for Break

Arrested after he assertedly had battled the owner and escaped from a West Quincy home into which police said he forced entrance, James R. Aylward, 20, of Sunnyside rd., East Milton, pleaded not guilty in Quincy District Court today to a charge of nighttime breaking and entering.

Judge Gertrude Halloran continued hearing of his case until July 28. Aylward is free in bail of $1000.

Police said the youth was detected in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bryan of Robertson st., who vainly tried to subdue him. He broke away from the couple and fled as four police cruisers arrived.

According to police, Aylward said he had been drinking Saturday night and had taken a girl home to that neighborhood somewhere, but after that his memory was foggy.

Westboro Hospital Employee's Death Probed

SCITUATE, R. I., July 21 (AP)—An investigation was underway today in the death of Robert Charles Porter, 19-year-old Westboro, Mass. State hospital employee, whose body was found off East rd.

Medical Examiner Arthur G. Randall said Porter, a native of Warren, Pa., had been dead for two or more months. He withheld a finding pending a report from the state pathologist.

Marine Badly Hurt In Sleep-Walking Plunge

Aided by a search plane from Salem, the Coast Guard cutter Spar was cruising 150 miles east of Cape Cod today trying to locate the New Bedford trawler Kelbarnam, disabled with engine trouble. The 75-foot vessel is in no danger and will be towed to port.

Other vessels towed home with engine trouble were the Boston trawlers Gannet and Margie and Pat, and the Gloucester fisherman Poseidon.

Arlington Mother, Son Injured in Maine Crash

WINDHAM, Me., July 21—A mother and son from Arlington, Mass., were among seven motorists under treatment today for injuries suffered in a head-on auto crash on Roosevelt trail.

Mrs. Alma MacCormack of Hillside rd., Arlington, received a broken arm and possible internal hurts, and her son, Brad, escaped with minor injuries.

Pastor Explains Presence Of Klansmen at Services

MIAMI, Fla., July 21 (INS)—Northern-born Rev. Ernest L. Wiedenmann tonight declared he was just trying to "save souls" when he allowed robed members of the Ku Klux Klan attend a memorial service in his church here.

Rev. Wiedenmann was restrained from using his pulpit by a court order obtained by dissenting members of his congregation. He held services in the parking lot of a bar on the Tamiami Trail. About 30 of his congregation heard his sermon on "Christian compassion for the multitude."

Youth, 17, Sought in Killing of Boy, 8

LINCOLN, Neb. (INS)—Nebraska police intensified their search for George Thomas Lee, 17, of Oconto, Wis., charged with first degree murder in the mutilated slaying of eight-year-old George Mulholland.

The murder charge, which states that Lee "deliberately, and with premeditated malice, strangled Charles Mulholland, July 14," was filed by County Atty. Frederick Wagener.

James L. Dalton, special agent in charge of the Omaha FBI office, also announced he had obtained a complaint and a warrant for Lee's arrest for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for murder.

The FBI agent said that G-men will join the manhunt immediately.

Rome Restaurants Closed For Food Racketeering

ROME, July 21 (AP)—Forty-two restaurants have been closed in the last two days in what Interior Minister Mario Scelba said today was a crackdown on Italy's big illegal food supply.

Scelba said restaurants which persisted in breaking laws against serving meats, sweets, and white bread may be faced with permanent closing or conversion to popular eating centers. He declared the food situation in the country was desperate because of poor crops.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

A YEAR AGO, James M. Cain announced a plan to monopolize the writing of America as Petrillo has succeeded in monopolizing the music of this country. The "Cain Plan" proposed a centralized authority to represent all American writers, except those in daily journalism, in their business dealings with publishers, editors, and the radio and motion pictures industries. No distinction was made between the specialized problems of the screen writer, who is usually a salaried employee, and the problems of freelance writers, poets, novelists, or the author of a textbook. The scheme made the writers of this country subject to a single authoritarian body.

The Cain Plan was effectively opposed by writers all over the country, particularly by those who organized the American Writers Ass'n. It found its strongest support in Hollywood, especially among writers of left-wing persuasion.

Some months ago, the screen writers issued a revised Cain Plan which was supposed to meet all the objections to the original. Actually, the revision seems to be as bad or even worse than the original. It remains a monopoly. It is still an instrument for thought control. It still sets up an authority. It is still unconstitutional.

THE CAIN PLAN "is a plan for a non-profit corporation to which writers would assign their copyrights and which would (a) Administer the over-all licensing program to which the Author's League of America is now committed; (b) Seek to enforce authors' rights of all kinds, such as the separate property rights arising out of the work or copyright; (c) assist writers by all means available in receiving the equitable administration of laws by courts, bureaus, and other agencies."

The writer would be a member of this authority. He could not join it. He could not have a direct voice in its affairs. The authority would be set up by the four guilds of the Author's League. But suppose, as happens thousands of times each year, something is written by one who does not belong to one of these guilds? They would be "... entitled to the services of the AAA: But they have no voice in running it unless they join one of the guilds. ..."

IN A WORD, pressure would be put on all writers to join some guild.

NO PLAN for controlling thought, writing, ideas, freedom of expression in every form has ever been devised which so completely violates every American principle of life as does the Cain Plan.

During the halcyon days of the New Deal, left-wingers got jobs, not only in government agencies but in private publishing houses where they used every indecent means available to determine what books, what magazine articles, what motion pictures should be made available to the American people.

For several years, distinguished American writers could find no market even in conservatively-owned magazines because these pivotally placed left-wingers managed to kill them off.

After the war, there was a general house-cleaning and now the left-wingers seek to restore their control over the means of expression of the nation by the establishment of the American Authors Authority which will be most bitterly opposed by liberty-loving writers and publishers.

Chaplin Aims Vows To House Prohr

HOLLYWOOD, July 21 (AP)— Chaplin gave a preview of his testimony in nothing Rep.
Thomas (D) of New Jersey chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, this was expected in advance the committee's expected invitation.

Chaplin said he had learned from the newspapers the Committee plans to call him as a witness in September.

"You've been quoted saying you wish to ask true if I am Communist," the actor said. "I have Thomas. 'You sojourned for 10 days in Hollywood not long ago and could have asked me the question at that time, effecting something of an economy."

"While you are preparing your engraved subpoena I will give you a hint on where I stand. I am not

FOREST FIRE BOMB

WASHINGTON, July 21
(INS)—The War Dept. announced that water bombs will be dropped on a forest fire for the first time in a demonstration near Missoula, Mont.,
Wednesday.

The test is being sponsored jointly by the Army Air Forces and the Forest Service of the Agriculture Dept.

The department said that water bombs will be dropped on the "head" of the fire from a Boeing B-29 Superfortress carrying eight bombs, auxiliary fuel tanks filled with water and equipped with proximity fuses set to explode the tanks at a predetermined altitude.

N. Y. Buses Move Under Police Guard

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP)—
Buses in the populous borough of Queens moved under police guard today after 500 union drivers for two companies voted almost unanimously to continue their strike that began Saturday.

Police said 300 strikers attempted to block the movement of the first 37 buses from a terminal of the Green Bus Lines, Inc., with a picket line, but dispersed when police arrived. By mid-morning 53 of a normal 120 buses were in operation, the line said.

*Experience is the

Yes, experience during the wartime cigarette shortage
—smoking and comparing many different brands —taught millions the big differences in cigarette quality

Remember?

When you stood in line to get cigarettes? It was no fun, that wartime shortage; but it was a revealing experience to smokers everywhere.
And, incidentally, it was one of the biggest comparison tests in cigarette history.

Second Choices

It didn't matter much what brand you asked for in those days of wartime scarcities—you took whatever brand

Choice of Experience

Whether they intended

Runaway, 12, Okay After 5-Day Flight

WATERBURY, Ct., July 21 (AP)—After a 12-hour sleep and an afternoon at the movies, Allen Selby, Jr., 12, who eluded police, Boy Scouts and other searchers for five days after he ran away from home, was reported today to be "in perfect shape."

That, said Allen's father, was the verdict of a physician who examined the boy.

The runaway ended when an acquaintance of the elder Selby saw the boy and notified police.

The youngster said he had spent most of the time in the vicinity of the Bristol railroad station and had earned money running errands for employees of the American Railway Express Co. there.

This Started Something!

YOU'RE LOOKING at the start of a new day in the history of the automobile.

... A new day of super-safety, with steel girders replacing old-fashioned body bolts.

... A new day of bigger, more comfortable cars, using far less gasoline.

... A new day when cars won't rattle or squeak in body or frame...

You see it below, in X-ray view—Nash's SINGLE UNIT body and frame, with 8,000 welds joining every piece of steel in a "pocket battleship" unit.

Engineers predict that someday you'll see it in all new automobiles—but you have it today in a Nash "600."

You see it in the amazing mileage of the Nash "600"—from 25 to 30 miles a gallon, at moderate highway speed!

You see it in the roominess of a Nash... with a rear seat large enough to take a big Convertible Bed.

You feel it in Nash performance... its dazzling pickup, roadability, quietness... its easier steering and parking.

You feel it in the cushioned ride of Nash coil springs at all four wheels.

Even the air is different in a Nash! Fresh, pure, clear... free from cold and dust and drafts. It's automatic—Nash's Weather-Live System at work!

You get it all in a Nash—and all at a price that compares with America's low-price cars!

Yes—it's value that's making Nash fastest growing in popularity today.

And it's value you want in your car.

See them at your Nash dealer, the new Nash "600" and Nash Ambassador—The Pattern of Cars to Come!

Reader's Digest Reports American Medical Association's Statement on Aspirin's Effectiveness!

ASPIRIN IS PROBABLY THE SAFEST AND MOST EFFICIENT
OF THE PAIN KILLERS

This is the statement concerning Aspirin's effectiveness made by the American Medical Association to the author of an article in the Reader's Digest.

This statement is a real tribute to all makers of Aspirin who have supplied this invaluable drug in ever-increasing quantities to allay the pains of ordinary headache, neuritis and neuralgia . . . ills which cause more suffering than all serious diseases combined.

An unmatched record

Bayer Aspirin, the leader in the Aspirin field, has a unique distinction from all other Aspirin. It was Bayer who discovered Aspirin . . . Bayer who made it first. That was 46 years ago, and since Aspirin's discovery, Bayer has employed the following principles in manufacture:—

Every grain of Aspirin used by Bayer is made by Bayer. It is under Bayer's sole control from raw material to finished tablet. Not a single grain comes to Bayer from outside sources—and not a single grain goes from Bayer to other Aspirin manufacturers, Bayer Aspirin—and nothing but Bayer Aspirin—is made in the Bayer plant.

Because of this control, plus the years of experience which only Bayer has, there is little wonder that wherever you go, men and women in all walks of life have such deep-seated confidence in Bayer Aspirin—a confidence that means so much when you're in pain and want fast relief.

In the greater service of those who suffer pain

No other pain reliever can match Bayer Aspirin's record of reliability . . . its record of use by millions of normal people—without ill effect. And to enhance Bayer Aspirin's value to those who suffer pain, the finest drug manufacturing plant in the United States has just been completed for the makers of Bayer Aspirin. In this magnificent plant, Bayer continues to produce its own Aspirin. And no drug, not even the sulfas or penicillin, for example, is produced under any better any stricter, any more scientific methods of manufacture. As a result, when you use Bayer Aspirin, you know you're using an analgesic that's dependable.

Always ask for genuine

This is the new Bayer Aspirin plant, in Trenton, N. J., that went into operation on June 1, 1947. In it are the most modern of scientific laboratories and equipment . . . special equipment designed expressly to make Bayer Aspirin embodying all the newest advances in pharmaceutical engineering. Here, Bayer Aspirin continues its long established tradition of making more than 70 rigid tests for quality, purity and uniformity during the manufacturing process. Here it is made—completely, from raw material to finished tablet—on Aspirin that merits your confidence . . . Bayer Aspirin!

$10,000,000 Bachelor Tells What Kind of Girl He'd Choose

What kind of a girl does a young, unmarried millionaire prefer? Edgar Freddie Luckenbach, Jr., is young, unmarried and has $10,000,000—as well as definite ideas on the subject of women.

The kind of a girl that appeals to this handsome shipowner and theatrical producer is described in the article, "Unmarried Millionaires—Edgar Luckenbach," which will appear in next Sunday's American Weekly, magazine issued with the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

In another special American Weekly feature, "Beggars In Mink," the amazing facts about fake charities are exposed, and a check list will furnish you with some valuable tips on how to guard against charity swindlers.

One-Week Halt Starts at GM

DETROIT, July 21 (INS)—The first of 180,000 General Motors employees to be idled in a scattered schedule of shutdowns will begin a week-long holiday in Michigan today.

The corporation is putting the brake on virtually every production line in Michigan, idling 115,000 workers for a week. A spokesman said 65,000 more eventually will be laid off across the nation as supplies run out.

GM blames the steel shortage for the scrapping of its production schedules.

THE EAGLE'S RIGHT, NEED

FORTY YEARS AGO the United States Army started a revolutionary development. A special division of the Signal Corps, consisting of one officer and two enlisted men, was assigned to study and experiment with a flying machine invented by the Wright brothers.

Two years ago the United States Army Air Force had reduced to smoking ruins the war industries of two great empires, destroyed their communications, paralyzed their armies, pursued their navies into hiding and proved with crushing finality to their peoples the hopelessness of further resistance.

As we prepare to celebrate Army Air Force Day on Aug. 1, the two-and-a-half million men, the thousands of fighting aircraft, the bases, factories, air fields that as the mightiest weapon in history had doomed Japan and Germany, are a shadowy skeleton of the might that was.

And yet, today the need of air supremacy for America is greater than ever before.

Neither peace nor the final victory has been assured to Democracy.

In a time when it is obvious that future safety lies in the ability to dominate the air, the A.A.F. is outranked by other world powers.

As General Arnold has said: "A second-best air force is like a second-best poker hand—no good at all."

IN A TIME when the vital organs of our nation are within easy reach of modern military aircraft, in a time of intense development and perfection of guided missiles, of super-sonic speeds and incredibly devastating explosives, the American Army Air Force is being allowed to disintegrate.

This is a good thing—for the enemies of America.

It is a gratifying condition for the enemies of American Democracy, and Democracy anywhere.

For if there is one specific deterrent against world domination by foreign totalitarian despots, it is the awakened and ever-ready strength of America.

And of that strength, the mightiest element is American hegemony of the skies.

In fact, exclusive possession of the atom bomb, and the ability to fill the air with American fighting planes, today are together the one and only guarantee of world peace.

Should either one, or both, of these be clearly lost or defaulted by America, the forces of totalitarian tyranny would immediately be on the march.

This time, by air over the Great Circle routes that pass over the Polar Cap and lead to the still-free centers of industry and civilization.

These are the premises that should be pondered by those who blandly believe that the instrument of air power can be permitted to rust in idleness, and suddenly, when the storm breaks upon us, be quickly taken up, sharpened and wielded WITH EFFECT.

THERE CAN BE no more fallacious notion, nor one more dangerous.

America needs an air force second to none.

Back of that air force there must be a strong, modern, progressive aircraft industry; a well-trained reserve of fliers and technicians; an elastic, well-equipped, ably-staffed element of air transport.

On Army Air Force Day, America will celebrate with gratitude and reverence her warriors of the air, both living and dead.

But that tribute will be empty and fruitless, if it is not accompanied by a firm and purposeful resolution that this nation's air power will be preserved, nourished, kept fit in numbers and facilities.

So that, instead of a gallant handful sent aloft against odds to be expended in a lost cause, it shall by its mere existence restrain, or render suicidally impractical, any attempt upon the liberties of this nation.

That is the promise that the Army Air Force has earned beyond the call of duty and the measure of honor.

That is the promise the American people are insisting shall be kept.

EVERY TIME his wife is expectant a London, Eng., father suffers from a severe toothache for four weeks before the blessed event. This has happened to the poor guy on three occasions now. Reminds me I heard of a man in Neenah, Wis., who loses all his hair every time his wife is expectant. After the blessed event his hair grows back again.

ASKING: Queries from clients. Q—My wife says Ruth Etting is at least 45 years old. I say she is not yet 40. Who wins? Q—You are the winner. S. I. R. C. O. n gratulations. Ruth will not be 40 until November of this year. Q—Will bet you an ice cream soda. Armed beats Assault the first time they meet. How about it? A—I'll take that bet. Assault can beat Armed by a minimum of three lengths at a mile and a quarter. Note you are from Baltimore. Since when did Baltimoreans start betting ice cream sodas on horse races? Q—Saw production is announced of a film titled, "Paid In Full," described as a story of twin sisters. Wasn't there a play of that name? What was it about? A—The play, "Paid In Full," by Eugene Walter was a smash hit on Broadway in 1907. Believe it was about a husband who tried to blackmail his wife's employer. Am certain, however, it was not about twin sisters. Tully Marshall starred in it.

BEEF: Argentina sells beef to Great Britain for one-third of the price charged the British for United States beef. In an argument about this an Englishman claimed Argentine beef is better than United States beef. I don't think it is nearly as good. I had dinner several times in a place specializing in Argentine steaks. They were just not in the same class as Kansas City steaks.

MOTHERS-IN-LAW: Six mothers-in-law of Pittsburgh inform me they have spent considerable time checking the mother-in-law situation. According to their findings most of the quarrels and ill-feeling between mothers-in-law and daughters-in-law are started by the latter. "Our investigation shows the average daughter-in-law has a chip on her shoulder where her husband's mother is concerned," writes the mother-in-law making her report. "About the only way to get along with daughter-in-law is call on her as little as possible and then agree with everything she says."

OUT WEST: In Oceanside, Cal., an autoist was arrested for drunken driving and for driving without a license. All that happened to this offender was that he had to pay a fine. If that's the way they handle drunk and unlicensed auto drivers in Southern California it is no wonder their traffic accident record is so bad. It will get a lot worse if that type of slap-on-the-wrist penalty policy is continued.

BROTHERS: As for baseball batteries made up of brothers have you ever heard of one battery of opposing brothers opposing another brother battery. That happened in a game between Andover and Exeter. The Brown Brothers acted as battery for Andover and the Jones Brothers for Exeter. Andover won the game. Incidentally, the Jones Brothers were T. A. D. Jones and Howard Jones who later starred at Yale in football and baseball. After that both "Tad" and Howard became famous football coaches.

POLICEMEN: Around New York many young fellows consider being on the police force a preferred occupation. There is never a lack of applicants for police jobs there. The situation on the Pacific Coast is apparently different.

Some months ago San Francisco police department was advertising in the help wanted section for applicants. Now the Los Angeles department is doing likewise. Salaries offered policemen in Los Angeles are from $240 to $290 a month.

PASSING BY: Ben Hecht. Prolific perpetrator of novels, plays, poems and pamphlets on poker and pinocchio. He is the only fellow I know who chews gum and smokes at the same time. He was born in New York city but reared in Racine, Wis. . . Johnny Kilbane. Erstwhile ringman. Once the featherweight champion. Johnny was born in Cleveland 58 years ago and still lives there. . . Tom Filcher. The amiable egotist. At the Pinhurst, N. C., horse show in 1921, Tom had the mount on a noble animal named Scipio who established a world's record by jumping over triple bars a distance of 29 feet and seven inches from takeoff to landing. The highest bar was set at four feet nine inches.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, July 21—The text of "Leaves of Morya's Garden" is divided into dated blurbs of more or less poetic writing. Some of it actually is poetry. It is all mystical but altogether it is fierce and brutal. Inasmuch as Henry Wallace was, for several years, a member of the circle of Prof. Nicholas Roerich, the Russian occultist and Oriental savant, whose disciples regarded him as God. And inasmuch as this book was labelled as Roerich's "First Message," the message seems to me to be a key to Henry Wallace's plan for the future of mankind.

Westbrooke Pegler

While we bear in mind that Wallace finally did turn on the old Guru, or spiritual master, we may remember, too, that he never has recorded his repudiation of Roerich's teachings.

The first entry in "Leaves of Morya's Garden" is dated London, March 24, 1920, and says: "I am—thy bliss, thy smile, joy, rest, strength, valor and wisdom."

The May 29 entry says: "Spurn cowardice—I shield the fearless one."

Lot of stuff about love in here.

July 2. "You carry stones for the erection of my temple."

Horch, the sucker who put up most of the money for the big 29-story joss-house on Riverside Drive, later had a suspicion that the order to carry stones for the temple and several similar lines running through the message were kidding on the level.

Let's skip the dates. They mean nothing, anyhow.

"Thou must have faith in me, for love multiplies thy strength."

"A new temple will be raised. Do not regard me as a magician. Yet I can lead thee along the ladder of beauty beheld only in dreams."

Sounds kind of like the old boy, was going against that pipe.

"We bring the message of a new religion of the spirit to humanity. To thee is revealed the miracle of creating life's harmony. It will reveal to thee a new order."

Hitler was going to do that, too.

"For missions of importance, use wait harmonious persons. Their current is most powerful."

THAT'S kind of funny, at that, because, for a time they were all loving pals in the joss-house and then all of a sudden Wallace canned the old boy by cable while he was off in Inner Mongolia hunting wild grass seed and Horch fell out of bed and snapped out of his dream and grabbed the lamassary and kicked out the other disciples who were rooming there free and the damnedest fight you ever did see ensued.

"Realize the joy of fighting in the cause of my task."

He is beginning to get tough, now.

"The spiritual life is ever affected when your possessions are too many."

Probably drawing a bead on Horch, there, and Louie finally went for more than $1,000,000 before he came to.

By the way, in another book, way back in the twenties, Roerich casually wrote about the explosive force of the atom.

"M—— is accustomed to battle and my children must be wise in fight. The unity of nations will come through battle. I rejoice in beholding a valorous spirit. Fight wisely now, for our enemies are also thine enemies. Show might in battle. The curtain is torn asunder and the unknown is revealed. The spirit is filled with foreboding of coming events—the currents vibrate. The creator's manifestations should not terrify the warriors but should, using them on. Forge thy arrows. I am sending love." "The uncertainty will depart. The great plan of the rise of new race is wisely designed."

AND, for a last citation I give you the clincher to prove the ultimate purpose of Henry Wallace's spiritual advisor:

"My children, the teaching of life's manifestations under My guidance is the straightest path to cosmic understanding. In the history of mankind is disclosed the great battle for race obliteration and at the call of battle each summoned warrior takes up his arms. Providence leads nations by way of battle and do you, My warriors, guard yourselves along with the shield of God's will and the divine song will forever find echo in thee. My children, these hazardous days will pass and you will safely enter the new world by way of the appointed path."

Remember, these spiritualists mean a practical world, super-mortal but inhabited by elect human beings in the flesh, the elite survivors of that "great battle of race obliteration."

I begin to understand what Henry had in the back of his mind when he, like Hitler, regretfully remarked that he could not live 1000 years but said that in that time, given full authority, he could obliterate race from mankind.

Ultramodern—Latest method of modern shopping is demonstrated by Mrs. Harry C. Vollmar, St. Louis housewife, as she arrives by helicopter at the Hampton Village shopping center, world's largest market. The "copter" landed in the regular auto parking space, waited for Mrs. Vollmar, and then flew her back, landing in the front yard.

Boston After Dark

MONDAY MUSINGS: This summer of 1947 will be remembered pleasantly by the membership of Actors' Equity as the season that meant real money in the barnyard, or straw hat, theater . . . And red-haired, talented Lucille Ball, far from her Hollywood home, will occupy the role of The Fair Emancipator . . . Until Lucille made the straw hat producers say it with greenbacks, stars from both Broadway and Hollywood have been lured to the summer theaters of the East by promises of an exciting vacation, room and board—and spending money—and in many cases—a chance to return to the limelight.

MISS BALL WAS IN the favorable position of having enough money to pay for an "exciting vacation" and of being in greater demand at her home studio, Metro, as well as a much-requested loan-out player wanted by the other major studios . . . So Lucille could afford to do some bartering when she was offered a starring engagement at "Marblehead" in "Dream Girl" and eight additional weeks in key cities . . . She held out for 20 per cent of the gross receipts, and got it . . . It amounted to $3200 in Marblehead . . . In Detroit last week, Lucille netted almost a thousand dollars more than her Marblehead earnings.

MISS BALL'S remarkable contract has another unusual stipulation . . . After the glamorous Lucille has concluded her summer theater tour here in Boston next month, she will take over gratis the physical production of "Dream Girl" . . . As the original Broadway production of the Elmer Rice play cost more than $60,000 to build, Miss Ball's first fling at the summer "legit" becomes a bonanza . . . Lucille will be equipped beautifully to become a producer on her own.

THE "DREAM GIRL" starring role is so mealy and rewarding that Miss Ball can have a good time playing it and be insured against possible reverses in the movie business for seasons to come . . . Playwright Rice wrote and produced "Dream Girl" as a play for his talented wife, Dorothy Field . . . She withdrew from the taxing role at the end of the Broadway run . . . As high royalties are inevitable with Miss Ball appearing as star, Rice's well-known business acumen will prompt him to give Lucille the production rights for the road, Broadway observers believe.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: The Braves were 100-55 favorites, with Warren Spahn pitching, to beat Pittsburgh . . . New York foresees a "subway series" with the Yanks already counted "in," and the Giants' power envisioned as the September punch needed to clinch the National League pennant . . . This optimism (unusual for the Big City), is causing some spirited bidding by the television companies in the market for the baseball rights . . . With his two-story restaurant and cocktail lounge adequately air-conditioned at last, Joe Veeva is advertising his day's schedule five hours and made a moderate-priced, hot-weather luncheon an added attraction . . . Joe's pre-season offer to the Red Sox and Braves of a dinner for two in reward for every home run blown struck at Fenway Park or Braves Field has not been as costly as it promised to be . . . Home runs are scarce indeed when the Braves are home, and the Sox bats have been muted to less than one-half their 1946 blastings . . . Talented Margaret-Allen Burke, daughter of Bill Burke, the Boston wool broker, will make her debut with the Beverly Players to night in support of Elissa Landi in Somerset Maugham's "Theatre."

IF THE AUGUST Jockey Club rulers of the turf can be shaken loose from their traditional conservatism, the horse-racing business will borrow a page from the dog-racing manual and identify competing thoroughbreds according to the post position in each race . . . This radical change would abolish the custom of having the jockey wear the silks of the horse-owners, and would supplant the colorful, but oftentimes confusing spangles now worn with silk blouses signifying the post position number of the horse to be ridden.

Broadway

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, July 21—The Margaret Sullivan-Lealand Heyward break-up is Hollywood's biggest "open secret." Literary insiders say the Jim Farley articles netted him $75,000 (not $50,000 as reported) plus a percentage of magazine's gross on increased circulation. The series was one of the biggest magazine features in recent years . . . The wealthy and important Lehman family is supporting Lady Iris Mountbatten in her current money difficulties. It seems Orrin Lehman and Iris are more than fond of each other, and the clan approves . . . Louis B. Mayer is negotiating to take over a French film company . . . The Sheraton Lounge is having a hard time keeping its pretty, transparent-skirted waitresses. Kim Stanley, one of the tray-luggers, left Saturday to take over a role in the Sylvia Sidney version of "Joan of Lorraine" . . . Cornelia Otis Skinner's biog of her parents is in the hands of publishers Houghton & Mifflin . . . Joey Adams, the Damon Runyon Fund's No. 1 collector, now has every crumpier in Las Vegas suggesting that heavy winners leave some of their new moolah for the fund.

HOLLYWOOD, July 21—While Zane Grey was alive his stories written about the West made wonderful movies. Even after his death they continued to be filmed.

Now his family has formed its own motion picture organization to be known as Telepictures, Inc. Mrs. Grey, widow of the writer, and their son, R. M. Grey, are vice-presidents. While Stephen Slesinger, New York publisher, is president.

All the story properties created by Grey, including 47 which have never been published, will be filmed. Except in one or two instances, all rights will revert to the Grey family within a few months. This new company will cover radio, television and all other rights, and I've been told they had some very fine offers to release these popular stories of the West.

WENDY HILLER, whose appealing performance in "Pygmalion," with the late Leslie Howard, won her many friends in America, arrives in New York Aug. 24, accompanied by her husband, Russel Gow.

It's the stage, and not the movies, that is taking Miss Wendy Hiller away from England. She will be starred in Fred Finkelhoff's production of "Washington Square," which Jed Harris is producing. Basil Rathbone is almost set as her leading man.

If the play is a success, Miss Hiller will take an apartment and bring her children to this country.

GIAN-CARLO MENOTTI, whose two operettas, "The Medium" and "The Telephone," have created such a sensation in the East, is bringing his talents to the screen. I was very interested to hear Menotti has signed a contract to direct and write for MGM. I call that a coup in getting him.

"The Telephone" is a one-act comedy with music, while "The Medium" is in two acts. I really don't suppose they should be called operettas, because they are scarcely long enough, but they are completely charming. He's a very talented composer.

LATEST BULLETIN on Judy Garland is both good and bad. The bad part is that little Judy left Saturday for a sanatorium in the East where she must remain for two months or longer. The good part is, the doctors assure MGM she will be completely well following this rest.

She has been a very sick, nervous girl on the verge of a breakdown and it was thought advisable for her to have a change of scene. Vincente Minnelli has been devotion itself during these trying days.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: Well, I checked one story and a plum fell in my lap. I called Jane Greer to ask if Eddie Lasker, son of Albert Lasker, would accompany her on location. She said, "No, it's not true."

"Are you marrying Eddie?" I asked. She said, "Yes, I am. We have set no date but I expect to marry him."

Well, congratulations, Jane and Eddie. Jane is the ex-wife of Rudy Vallee, and one of RKO's best bets.

I do hope Gloria De Haven will get the lead opposite Donald O'Connor in "Are You With It." She's the hottest girl under consideration at the moment. Well, I'm sure if Gloria could get a job it would be the most wonderful thing in the world.

She left MGM and is now freelancing, and I believe her only trouble in the world was her worry over getting the parts she felt she deserved. This would really set her up right.

Charles Le Maire has finally succeeded in convincing the Academy group to give awards to the Hollywood designers. They would come under the art directors' group.

All of Hollywood's designers who create styles for the stars would be eligible—Orly Kelly, Eddie Stevenson, Travis Banton, Irene, Edith Head.

Personally, I think it's a very good idea. Certainly some of the clothes designed by these artists are outstanding and should be given recognition.

I was talking to Darryl Zanuck the other evening and he told me he had brought Dr. Sidney Tarnatino and his wife, who is also a doctor, here for "The Snake Pit," so there will be no criticism of the scenes in the insane asylum and of the mentally sick heroine.

Must be strange for Olivia De Havilland to play a heroine who is mentally sick. John Crawford was awfully good in "Possessed" as a schizophrenic. Goodness, how times do change, when our glamor girls are willing, for the sake of their art, to play an insane character.

TUESDAY, just after John Loder was divorced by Hedy Lamarr, he stopped in to see me.

"I thought the bottom had dropped out of everything," he said, "I was so blue. And now I have received an offer to star in 'For Love or Money,' a romantic comedy by F. Hugh Herbert. It opens in the Henry Miller Theater in September."

John said that Hedy had gone to Lake Tahoe and taken Jimmy, their 8-year-old son, but the two babies were here, and he expects to see them as much as possible before he leaves next month.

He said, as he looked around the room, "Here is where Hedy I came to give you the first news of our marriage."

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD collected at random: The Kay Kyser are expecting another baby in January and Kay's lovely Georgia is very happy.

This whispered that Dorothy Hart Pancey is a very serious romance in New York. For a long time she was heartbroken after she and Bill Paley separated.

Gu. Bolton, who has been such an angel to his wife, who has been in a sanatorium for months and months, has been taking a very attractive Beverly Hills socialite out in London.

Gertrude Lawrence will not get the new Charles revue which Bea Lillie and Jack Buchanan tried to talk her into. But Bea and Jack are delighted with the idea and have not given it up, by any means.

Ned Bergen, husband of Eve Arden, will start suit for divorce in Nevada. That's because he lives there and it's easier for him to get it than for her to leave her career.

Cole Porter planned to Peru to see his mother who is desperately ill.

The best party given in a long time was the one Fefe Ferry gave himself for his birthday. Mike Romanoff turned over his house to the charming Fefe, and I don't believe there's ever been a nicer affair given in our town. A tent was added to the house to take care of the 100 or more guests.

Lana Turner, who's taking her picture making very seriously, went home immediately after dinner to be on the set early. She was escorted by Ty Power, who continues to be devoted.

Joan Bennett continues to astonish me. She looked like a youngster in a stunning white dress.

At the big Zane Grey—Darryl Zanuck—Sam Goldwyn, Jack Warner, David Selznick, toasted Fefe in very amusing speeches.

Norma Shearer said she was very excited about her trip to Europe with Marty Arrouge and the two children. She had a dress with a gingham bodice and plain skirt.

Lilli Palmer and Rex Harrison, who have about finished their pictures, were thoroughly enjoying themselves. The French consul introduced me to Bridget Baraga, a blonde beauty here for a try at the movies. I met Catherine Calvet, Paramount's foreign importation, and she's extremely attractive, too.

Douglas Fairbanks Jr. In toasting Fefe, did it all in perfect English every day. And Hatch was one of the most ardent New Dealers.

Now—you are more than justified in demanding—how did they happen to be breaking bread together and doing the old loving arms-in-the-air over the capitol? It is a tale that is passing strange, may, even impossible in most countries, but a tale of our wonderful America.

You will recall that Gen. Hurley quit his Chinese ambassadorship with blasts that echoed around the world; that he denounced the State Department for appeasement of Russia and accused it of wrecking our foreign policy in China.

Declaring he was off Washington striped-panters for life he betook himself to New Mexico and the Chavez battle, after the election he congratulated the victor—then asked the Senate campaign investigating committee to investigate the election, claiming he was fouled.

Driving Lesson Ends in Soaking

Richard J. Shea, 22, of Blackstone st., Cambridge, decided to give the missus a driving lesson.

Everything went fine until Mrs. Elizabeth Shea, 20, took a right turn into Copperthwaite st., from Memorial dr., also Cambridge, and lost control of the car.

The vehicle vaulted the sidewalk and rammed a hydrant, knocking it over and loosening a geyser of water through, in and around the Shea car, which came to a halt directly over the spot where the hydrant had stood.

Except for a thorough wetting, the Sheas escaped unharmed. The car was towed away.

Devens Mechanics Start Repairs on Crash Plane

CAMP EDWARDS, July 21—Mechanics today began repairing a powerful fighter plane damaged when Capt. C. S. Graham of the 67th Air Wing made a belly landing with wheels retracted and the craft skidded 250 yards on the runway.

The pilot escaped injury. The fighter had just flown over the field and given the 26th YD an aerial salute when it came in for a landing.

Girl, 9, Accidentally Hangs Herself at Play

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 21 (INS)—A 9-year-old girl accidentally hanged herself in Kenmore, a Buffalo suburb, in full sight of her 5-year-old brother.

The dead child is Sharon V. Vredenburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Vredenburg. Police said she apparently stood on a wagon, tied a piece of rope about her neck and threw the wagon over, suspending the other end over the fixture. The child in midair.

4 Centers Face Bus Service Loss

TAUNTON, July 31 — Passengers in Taunton, Brockton, Middleboro and Plymouth today faced loss of transportation, when Harold J. Dooley, treasurer of the Interstate Transportation Co., declared he would discontinue operation of the bus line rather than accede to demands that he rehire a discharged bus driver. Eight buses comprise the company's fleet.

The drivers walked out Thursday and coupled a request for a 10 per cent wage increase with their demand that Harold Sweet of Taunton be reinstated.

According to Dooley, Sweet was discharged when he became insolent and insubordinate after drawing a week's suspension for making a tip.

Southern Pacific Limits Freight as Strike Nears

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31 (INS) — The Southern Pacific R. R. issued another "embargo order" on freight as the deadline for the scheduled strike of locomotive engineers drew near.

The company said it would not accept shipments of less than carload freight originating on its Pacific lines west of Ogden, Utah and El Paso, Tex., and south of Portland, Ore.

THREE-STORY FALL FATAL

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent urinate passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect these conditions and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function persists, poisonous matter to remain in your blood. It may also cause nagging headache, rheumatoid pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Deafened People May Now Hear Clearly

Science has now made it possible for the deafened to hear faint sounds. It is a hearing device so small that it fits in the hand and enables thousands to enjoy sermons, music and friendly companionship. Accepted by the Council on Physical Medicine of the American Medical Association. This device does not require separate battery pack, battery wire, case or garment to bulge or weigh you down. The tone is clear and powerful. So made that you can adjust it yourself to suit your hearing as your hearing changes. The makers of Beltoné, Dept. 6, 1450 West 19th St., Chicago 8, Ill., are so proud of their achievement that they will gladly send free descriptive booklet and explain how you may get a full demonstration of this remarkable hearing device in your own home without risking a penny. Vacation Needs for Hair

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

YOU'LL BE SEEING new places and meeting new . . . and all the old, familiar . . . faces this summer. A quick, appraising estimate of you may serve either to bar or open the door to new friends and good times. You will want to be sure that in spite of heat and the completion of things to be done . . . you look cool, fresh and pretty at all times. Well, if not pretty, attractive.

It doesn't take long for sun and activities to show in your appearance. A few hours on a tennis court or on horseback will leave you healthy and happy . . . but hot! No matter what sports you go in for . . . you'll have to be particularly careful to retain that cool, clean look so essential to this summer's crisp cottons.

You've done a pretty good reconversion job on yourself these past few months. Those inches lost around the middle will do wonders for your new bathing suit. You've checked your clothes and everything's ship-shape. Your nails are gleaming and so is your hair. You're in the pink and ready for a wonderful vacation.

CLEANSES THE SCALP

Have fun and relax . . . don't relax to the point where you undo all the good work you've accomplished. You wouldn't stop brushing your teeth just because you're on vacation, would you? Well, don't forget to look after your hair . . . even more carefully than you do at home . . . if you want to retain the glow you've got right now.

No matter where your vacation takes you . . . you'll want to reflect that scrubbed look, so necessary this summer. Why not resolve to give your hair a good wash under the shower just to be sure? Yes, we said a good wash . . . which doesn't mean with a heavy hand . . . but a conditioning shampoo that cleanses the hair and scalp of the sweat and stickiness which summer sun injects into the hair.

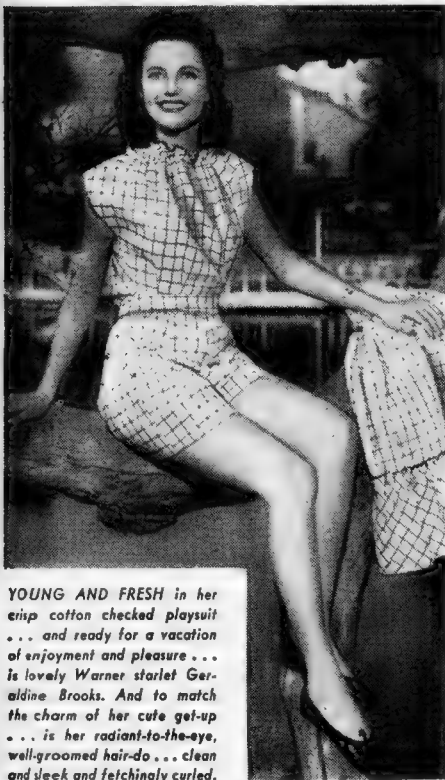

NEW RADIANCE

It is always so much more difficult to keep hair gleaming at the seashore . . . what with the salt of the ocean leaving its filmy residue on the hair . . . the burning rays of the sun reducing hair to virtually straw . . . and the summer humidity and stickiness matted the hair and like a magnet drawing dust particles to it.

With such a shampoo . . . liquid and conditioning . . . the hair takes on new radiance and sparkle. And to complete the operation . . . there is an improved and very quick-drying wave set lotion to make the achievement of a chic hairdo a mere matter of minutes.

For the name of this shampoo and the wave-set lotion (dries in one-third less time than ordinary lotions), phone the Beauty Dept., LIBERTY 4000, daily except week-end, or write to me, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

YOUNG AND FRESH in her crisp cotton checked playsuit . . . and ready for a vacation of enjoyment and pleasure . . . is lovely Warner starlet Geraldine Brooks. And to match the charm of her cute get-up . . . is her radiant-to-the-eye, well-groomed hair-do . . . clean and sleek and fetchingly curled.

More Important Than Age

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: About a year ago, I met a very nice girl who goes out with me now and then, and I always enjoy being with her. She doesn't go steady with anyone, so far as I know, and I think she likes me, and I feel even more than that toward her. The only catch is that she is 24 and I am 20 and still going to school. She is always kidding me about her age and mine and tells me to find a girl my own age or younger. We both like the same things.

Should I keep going out with her, or do as she says about finding a girl of my own age? MR. X.

Dear "Mr. X.": This question of a girl being older than a young man is one to which nothing as simple as a "yes" or "no" answer can be given. Mutual interests, congeniality of taste, similar standards and ideals, and a more or less common background mean very much more in determining whether or not two people would be well-matched, than the mere matter of how many years each is old.

If the two of you are congenial and happy in going together, then I see no reason why you should not continue your friendship just as long as things go happily. If you are not well-matched, that will show up sooner or later quite definitely.

Full Easy Silhouette for Coats

By EILEEN CALLAHAN

FASHION, always an artist at heart, has drawn a full, easy silhouette for coats this year. Coats are cut generously, even lavishly, with width ranging all the way from fitted flare to a silhouette so voluminous that it's almost a cape.

In between are the middling silhouettes, the adaptations that will find favor with women who like clothes that are fashion-wise but not extreme. Zoe De Salle, whose just-right clothes can, and do, go anywhere with perfect serenity, has designed a coat that has lots of fullness, but fullness so well controlled that even the larger figure isn't burdened by it.

Made in a soft caramel wool, this coat is cut full in the body with wide sleeves. Its width is confined evenly around the waist by pipe-organ pleats. The belt is a notable piece of dressmaking in itself, for attached to it is a large pocket for your small change. Worn with the coat is a matching skirt and a plain top of black silk canton crepe.

Braised Pork Chops Choice Dish for Summer Menus

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

IT MAKES NO DIFFERENCE what the season—a meal centered around some delicious pork chops always tastes mighty good. That's because, to most people, the rich, full flavor of well-cooked pork is immensely tasty and satisfying.

According to recent industry reports, the supplies of pork are due to be short at the end of the summer, so it's a good idea to serve the family pork chops now, while they're still available. Needless to say, pork chops offer the utmost in good nourishment, too, as well as eating enjoyment.

COOK THEM RIGHT

Just a tip to inexperienced cooks on how to make the most of all that pork chops have to offer—remember that pork must always be well done. But, in order to have the pork chops thoroughly cooked, it isn't necessary to have them "done to a crisp"—in other words, they should not be cooked until they're hard and dry.

The trick to having the chops lusciously tender, plump and juicy is to cook them slowly, by braising. Braising is a moist heat cookery method which we don't ordinarily use for tender meats, but pork chops are an exception to the general rule. For them, braising has been found to give far better results than any other cooking method.

MENU

Braised Pork Chops
Whole Cauliflower, Green Peas
Sliced Tomato Salad
French Dressing
Enriched Bread
Butter or Margarine
Crabapple Jelly
Rice Custard with Cream
Coffee

Steps in Braising

1—Brown pork chops on both sides, slowly, in a heavy frying pan. Since pork chops have considerable fat of their own, no extra fat is needed for browning.

2—When chops are well browned, a small amount of liquid may be added, if desired. However, if the pan has a good, tight cover, it may not be necessary to add any liquid. Merely covering the pan will provide enough moisture.

3—Continue cooking chops in covered pan, over low heat, until well done all the way through, allowing 45 to 60 minutes for chops $\frac{1}{2}$ to $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches in thickness. If preferred, this part of the cooking may be done in a moderate oven.

FOR A CHANGE

Even if pork chops are always cooked by the same method, that's no reason for any lack of variety in meals when pork chops are served. Fresh, stewed or canned fruit, cooked with the meat, gives a delightfully different flavor note. Certain vegetables, also, may be added to a casserole or scalloped potatoes, succotash, or even some savory baked beans.

ONLY AN illusion of an extended hip is reflected in this charming beige silk crepe afternoon dress . . . designed by Maurice Rentner, who in a season of radical fashion change remains steadfast and true to his ladylike-look credo. The subtle detail . . . cleverly placed at the hip . . . keeps the silhouette youthful and slender. The wrist-tied, long tight sleeves and the demure, high, turned-back collar give it additional newness.—R.M.

RICE CUSTARD PUDDING

2 eggs or 4 egg yolks, slightly beaten
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. salt
2 cups milk, scalded
 $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. vanilla extract
 $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups boiled rice

Combine slightly beaten eggs or egg yolks, sugar, and salt in top of double boiler. Add hot milk slowly and stir until sugar is dissolved. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly. When the custard coats a metal spoon, remove at once from hot water and place pan in cold water to cool quickly. Add vanilla extract, then add boiled rice and thoroughly mix with a fork. Pour in serving dish and chill. Serve with whipped cream or a garnish of tart jelly. Makes about 6 servings.

Who Pays Fee Of Organist?

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: When the organist who is to play at the wedding is the regular church organist, who pays his fee? And what is the usual amount?

The organist's fee is paid by the bride's family. His fee is usually a fixed amount, ranging from ten to twenty-five or thirty dollars, the amount sometimes varying if there is to be music (as there should be) at the wedding rehearsal. When the bride's family is making the wedding arrangements with the minister of the church, he will tell them if this fee is a fixed amount and what the amount is.

the restaurant. I had a deposit to make of about $500.

"I opened the night vault with a key which was furnished me by the restaurant owner and as I looked in the vault I saw a bag caught in the chute. I took the bag out, inserted my deposit and locked up the vault. I then hailed a taxi and asked him to drive me in back of the railroad station in Rochester, where I got out, paid the driver, opened the bag, took all the bills out and left the checks and took the bag with the checks in it to the Genesee river and threw the bag with the checks overboard. Then I got a cab and went to New York city, where I played the horses for a few days.

"Then I got homesick having a chance to get back to Boston and I came here and stopped at the Essex Hotel.

"I had about $11,800 with me when I arrived in Boston which I kept in the safe deposit box at the hotel. That $11,800 represents what I got out of the bag and some of my own money. I knew about Hampton Beach. So I went there where I hired a cottage for $700 on May 28. The cottage was hired for the season at that price. I stayed at Hampton Beach for two days.

"Then I came into Boston and hung around the city. I went over to Suffolk Downs with a girl friend I met and won $1500 in one day. I flew back to New York and played the races at Jamaica, stopping at a New York hotel the name of which I have forgotten. Playing the horses in New York I would bet an average of $1000 a day. I did this until I went clean. Then I had only one resort left, that was the cottage at Hampton Beach. I have about $50 left out of all the money that I had."

"I do not intend to fight this charge. I will waive extradition. Cambridge officers have told me they have notified Rochester police and they are on the way here now to take me back. I will go with them willingly. I want to get this over with and pay whatever price I have to pay for what I have done.

"During the time I had money, I had plenty of girls and did plenty of gambling and bought a lot of liquor."

For weeks, Rochester police inspectors Charles Hogan and Milton Curtis have been checking all New England race tracks with a trio of Cambridge Police inspectors, Sgt. Joseph P. Breen, Frederick Marckini, and James Murphy.

Their search led them to New Hampshire and, together with police there, they kept the cottage under surveillance for two weeks.

Chief Malek and Patrolmen John B. Marston and Abbott Young, hid on a small roof of the cottage and looked in, checking Byrne's description with a circular that had been issued by Rochester police.

"For a while I wasn't certain, looking through the screen, but once inside there was no doubt he was the man," Chief Malek said.

"A young Lowell girl who had fallen for Byrne's 'line' was with him in the cottage, but she was in no way involved in the theft. We let her go after questioning her."

Rochester police said the whole arrest was made by "a lucky break." Michael Troisi, a cigar manufacturer, had placed the money in the deposit box, slammed the door shut and left.

Q—Where can I get perennial onions?

A—I believe you mean Egyptian onions. These bulbs can be purchased at your local seed house, and should be available by the middle of August.

Q—How long will the effects last when plants are sprayed with D. D. T.?

A—If crops are in the sun, probably 10 days to 2 weeks. The temperature and moisture also affects its lasting qualities.

Q—Is it too late to make another planting of carrots?

A—No. Carrots can be planted as late as Aug. 1 and mature.

"I wuz thinkin'..."

by IZZY ORT

The heat wave wuz been hangin' around like an unwanted in-law, ruint business fer about every grog shop in town. My grille wuz not doin' too hot becuz most of my patrons went to beaches to sun their tootsies. They wuz dunkin' in waves to escape the heat. Instead dunkin' their noses in suds! But the Legion came to town an' them lads made a big difference wid me especially since many of 'em wuz wartime customers came in to see how I wuz gettin' along widout 'em. I wuzn't! I hope they had no conventions every month! Lotta people is runnin' up an' down seashores, hikin' up their blood pressure, tryin' to keep comfortable. Me, I jest set down in my grille about 30 feet away from a fan, an' sip juleps. I'm as comfortable as a mink on a screen star's shoulders. I gotta lotta customers wat thinks the easy way is the best way an' they drop in as the sun goes down, an' luxuriate in the comfort of my grille. Now, why can't about 400 more people a day get jest as sensible an' I kin start smilin' again? Meanwhile, I'm insistin' the gayest, gay afternoon an' night spot in town is Orel's Grille, 25 Essex Street, Boston.—Advt.

Smart Set Weds in England

By BETTY ALDEN

BY TRANSATLANTIC PHONE Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Terry Collens of Newton Center have talked with their daughter, Priscilla, and her bridegroom, Lt. David E. Parker, R. N., and heard all about the couple's wedding July 12 in England.

The newlyweds are honeymooning at Boxhill, Surrey, and will reside near Devonport naval base.

They met in Boston while his ship was stationed here. The wedding took place at Christ Church, Tu'n bridge Wells, and the reception at Tide Brook, home of the groom's parents, Col. Jack Charles Parker, Royal Engineers retired, and Mrs. Parker.

Priscilla was attended by Nanette Cripser, cousin of the groom, and Eleanor Souby, both of Kent. Maj. Robin Flint Parker R. E. was the man for his brother and Cadel Officer Hugh Cripser head usher. The bride wore white silk and lace trimmed with pearl embroidery and a lace veil caught to a wreath of orange blossoms. Her bridesmaids were in turquoise with gold headbands and slippers.

The bride made her debut in Boston after graduating from Beaver Country Day in 1945. Lt. Parker is a graduate of Dartmouth Royal Naval Academy and member of Lansdowne Club, London.

Glamorous tans look the same wherever they are acquired and one of the most popular spots for sun basking in town is Longwood Cricket Club. Among the many society girls who swim at the Freshy Pool a great deal are Marie Sisk, Ruth Lally and Nancy Breed. The latter is varying her swimming with fresh water at Longwood in July and ocean bathing at Marion next month.

TWO LARGE ESTATES are being opened for charity events this week, one on the South Shore and one on the North. All Thursday visitors will flock to Mrs. Charles J. Eaton Jr.'s Fr. So. Duxbury where the barn and shaded lawns will be the setting of a sale to benefit New England Farm and Garden Ass'n.

Articles made by rural women will be sold including picnic baskets, handmade children's clothes, garden accessories and candy. Mrs. Halfdan Lee of Oyster-ville is president of Farm and Garden and the sale is being run by Mrs. John H. Cunningham and Mrs. Edward Harding.

Friday evening Comm. and Mrs. Keith Merrill of Avalon, Frides Crossing, will be hosts at a brilliant affair in the great drawing room at Avalon overlooking the ocean, "Melody Master," a movie of the life and music of Franz Schubert, will be shown to benefit St. John's Church, Beverly Farms.

Mrs. Howland Seabury and Mrs. Fitzwilliam Sergeant are chairmen assisted by practically every social register family on the North Shore, including Mrs. William Endcott, Mrs. Sherman Morris, Mrs. Robert Sturges, Mrs. William Pier, Miss Lillian Mitchell, Mrs. Henry Parker and Mrs. Lucy Sprague.

Notables Attend Lewis Rites

State and city officials, prominent political leaders and throngs of citizens representing many spheres of endeavor filled Gendale Methodist Church in Everett today, to pay final tribute to Mayor Frank E. Lewis of that city, who died Thursday in Whidden Memorial Hospital after a lingering illness.

More than 100 police and firemen, led by Acting Chief Pietro C. Fiorentino, Capt. William F. Childs and Fire Chief James J. Evans, formed an escort guard of honor.

State Sen. Sumner Whittier headed the list of honorary pallbearers.

Active pallbearers were Arthur MacKinnon, Alexander Barry, John Walsh, Walter Styles, Henry Schlegel, Joseph DiStessa and Morris Silverman. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

17th Century Religious Leader Canonized

VATICAN CITY, July 21 (AP)—Louis-Marie Grignon de Montfort, 18th century French religious leader was canonized in a colorful ceremony attended by some 15,000 pilgrims at St. Peter's.

Grignon, known as "The Good Father of Montfort," founded the missionaries of the company of Mary and the Institute of the Daughters of Wisdom. He died in 1716 and was beatified in 1924. He was the ninth new saint and the fourth Frenchman canonized this year.

Old Fritz Gives Warren Spahn a Pitching Lesson

By AUSTEN LAKE

THE BRAVES BOGGED down and lost a farewell ball game to the Pirates 9 to 1 and, compared with their superlative dash and spirit in previous home games, they looked like a set of Grogan's flophouse tenants, with nothing to do and plenty of time in which to do it. Their inertia was terrific.

So there, sirs and mesdames, was a fine example of the uncertainties of baseball. Here was Lefty Warren Spahn, the young cum laude pitcher for the up-front Braves. And there was a grizzled, league-worn old geezer named Fritz Ostermuller who was around when Cal Coolidge was president and now a ripe 40, dishing them up for the last-place Pirates. So the pre-game odds among the right field bet-brokers was 10 to 1 for our side, with few short-end takers.

A Ghost From the Past

SO WHAT HAPPENS? As you already know, Spahn throws a lot of base hits down the Pirates' batting gutters and has them slammed back until, after taking a brutal mauling for five innings, Billy Southworth mercifully pulls him under shelter. Meanwhile, gray and sun-wrinkled old Fritz holds the Braves to five hits, several of them the weasling kind, and one unearned run.

So this story, which was intended to be Spahn's, becomes Ostermuller's story. For Fritz is the only active player left in the major leagues from the period when Tom Yawkey, full of vinegar and ambition, bought Bob Quinn's Mother Goose boys in '32. There were a lot of oafish colts like Bill Cissell, Ed Morgan, Ed Connelly, Billy Werber and Roy Johnson who were forever dropping lizards, grass snakes and hoptoads down the pants of the other scholars. It didn't look as though any of them would ever come out of their safety pin stage and sanitary pants, what with giving hotel keepers the horrors and Joe Cronin the night sweats.

Fritz was one of the better behaved zanies, goofies and daffies on the club roster. But he was a raw-boned gawky fresh from the lubber roof leagues who oozed quarts of goose grease when he pitched and took his regular drubblings with a happy grin. I have always thought that this was when Tom Yawkey's nature, which originally was on the sweet side, began to curdle to the semi-sourness which it now is.

I like best to remember the day when the Sox of Fritz's freshman year arrived in Boston from Southern training and Ed Morgan carried a magnificent black eye with lovely russet, maroon and amber colors which started at his hairline and went mottling down to his chin. And Big Ed explained sadly to Yawkey how he had an argument with a Baltimore taxi driver in which the latter grabbed his crank handle and gave him a fine massage.

Yawkey just grinned his pussy-cat smile and said nothing, though he knew that Roy Johnson, the bottle-loving Indian outfielder, had staged a three-corner bathroom brawl in which he thumped Morgan silly and broke catcher Connelly's right arm. That is the sort of period from which Ostermuller sprang and makes it all the more remarkable that he is still around and beating such people as the Braves.

YES—THOSE WERE EXTREMELY trying times to us press authors, who were the usual boyish types who went early to bed and never dalled with frisky liquids. We tried to wire home serious essays on the Sox, but it was hard to report the doings of Ostermuller's playmates without breaking into nursery jingles and likening Joe Cronin to the Old Lady who lived in the shoe. And Fritz, who has become adult and industrious, reminds me of the time when Cronin was always ready with his hanky to wipe the children's runny noses, like the time when his morning faced kids became very giddy while eating in a hotel dining room and began firing biscuits, splashing their custard and creating an uproar until Joe rose like an angry daddy, and spilled them out of their high chairs and took their bibles away.

I mention this to show why, on Sunday, I looked down from the press crest and marvelled that any kid so green and gawky as Ostermuller was, could grow up to become such a dignified adult with enough left in his pitching elbow to beat the Braves with five hits. Or didn't he recognize Boston's latest idols and imagine them as the Red Sox kiddies of his junior day?

The rest of Fritz's juvenile delinquents of the older Sox time, whose animated cartoon comics bleached some of the blue from Cronin's eye and added some silver to his golden locks, have vanished from the scene. Yet here was old Fritz hypnotizing the Braves with his half-speed nibbler and rarely giving them more than a small piece of any pitch.

Truth to tell the Braves looked tired and very heavy on their feet, which could come from a constant diet of night games and double-headers. Their usual spark was missing and it grieves me to report that they didn't always run out their pop flies and rollers, but just snowed down the baseline and gave themselves up. But I don't scold them for this.

So this is IT—the western swing which Southworth admits is the test of greatness or oblivion. He confesses by August 15 when he starts his next long home stand, he'll know the best or worst. "The next few weeks," he says, "will tell how good we really are." Hold onto your hats! This is the payoff!

Braves, Yanks Play Hall of Fame Battle

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y., July 21 (AP)—Baseball Hall of Fame Day, today, will see the New York Yankees pitted against the Boston Braves, and 15 new plaques placed in the baseball shrine here.

The Yankees and Braves will meet in the afternoon for the annual big league exhibition game on Doubled Field, birthplace of baseball, following dedication ceremonies led by National League President Ford C. Frick.

The 15 recently-elected members of the Hall of Fame include 11 old-time diamond greats and four of the present day.

The old-timers: Clark C. Griffith, present owner-president of the Washington Senators, who rolled up more than 200 victories in 20 years of pitching in the National and American leagues; Joe Tinker, Johnny Evers and Frank Chance of the famed Chicago Cubs double play combination; Tom McCarthy, one of Boston's "Heavenly Twins," who stole 109 bases in 1888.

Joe "Ironman" McGinnity, who on five occasions hurled two games in a day and took double victories three times; "Gettysburg" Eddie Plank, Philadelphia Athletics southpaw from 1901 to 1914, who pitched more than 300 games; Rube Waddell, Athletics' strikeout king; Jack Chesbro, major league pitcher, who won 41 games in 1904, the record for a season; Jesse Burkett, American and National League batting star, and "Big Ed" Walsh, Chicago White Sox right-hander, who won 40 games in 1908.

The moderns: Frankie Frisch, top infielder, who retired last year as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates after 28 years in the big time; Carl Hubbell, now director of the New York Giants' farm system, who won 253 games as a major league hurler; Mickey Cochrane, ranking catcher, who became manager of the Detroit Tigers and led them to two American League pennants and the 1935 World Series title; and Robert Moses Grove, who won 79 games for the pennant-winning A's of 1929-30-31 and led the American League in strikeouts for seven consecutive seasons.

Braves on Road for Another Trip to Foreign Diamonds

By FRED HOEY

As the Braves reach Cooperstown, N. Y., where they will play the New York Yankees this afternoon at the Hall of Fame, a few of the pitchers are now en route to Chicago where they open a series with the Chicago Cubs tomorrow afternoon.

The home stand of the Braves finished on the wrong side, six wins and seven losses, but the crowds that attended all games was tribute to the hustling qualities of Mgr. Billy Southworth and his men.

The terrific shelling the stylish Warren Spahn received from the Pirates yesterday in their 16-hit attack to down the Braves 9-1 was a terrible shock to the crowd of nearly 16,000. With a goodly share of left handed batters in the Pirates' lineup this game looked like duck soup for Spahn but he just didn't have it.

They reached him for nine hits in 4-1-3 innings which is not the left hander's usual standard of twirling. After Spahn gave up the ship he was followed by Walt Lafranconi, Clyde Shoun and Andy Karl.

It was just one of those days the Pirates could have hit any sort of a pitcher. The wonder of it all is what they are doing in the cellar. It certainly is a greatly improved ball club over their former visit here. Billy Herman appears to have something stirring in the lineup. He could stand a couple more pitchers, but what team couldn't?

And the man who tamed the Braves was none other than old Fritz Ostermuller, who toiled for the Red Sox so long. Fritz allowed five hits and one run, Danny Litwiler was the only Brave to pick up two hits.

So, as the Braves start their western trek 3 1/2 games behind the leading Dodgers they have their work cut out. They have long stays in the western cities on this trip. No hopping in and out for single games.

After Chicago comes a jump to St. Louis followed by visits to Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. The Tribe returns home Tuesday, August 5 to open a series with the colorful Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Braves as without Johnny Beazley on the current trip. He is taking special arm treatment from a local specialist. Claude Shoun has been given permission to jump to his Mountain City, Tenn., home to see his wife who is ill.

Mele wasn't a regular when the Sox went west. He had lost his job a month ago because of weak hitting after hammering the ball all spring.

He won't be a regular in fact until the Sox played in Chicago. There, placed ahead of Williams in the batting order, not behind, he had a "three-for-three" day, and that started him off. He had a four-hit day in St. Louis, he boosted his average 20 points on the trip, and now he's the regular right field incumbent again, and it's doubtful if he'll ever lose it. The only thing that can beat him is worry.

Williams did the best hitting on the trip, however. Only six points over the .300 mark, he came .327 after making 22 hits in 15 games in the west. His best day, or night, was in St. Louis Friday when he had five hits, one a two-run homer, one a three-run homer. Maybe his year-long slump is over. Maybe he's forgotten the Boudreau shift.

Pawtucket Win Streak Halted by Lowell, 4-3

PAWTUCKET, R. I., July 21 (AP)—Lowell halted the Pawtucket Slaters' winning streak at seven straight games by squeezing out a 4 to 3 victory over the Pawtucket club at McCoy Stadium last night in a New England League game. The Slaters outhit Lowell, 8 to 5, but were unable to bunch their hits against the fine clutch pitching of Ed Mackey of the visitors.

Mackey played a prominent part in the downfall of the Slaters by clouting a 355-foot home run over the left field fence, driving in two runs in the Lowell 3-run second inning rally.

There's a strong chance of Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Stymie and the King Ranch's Assault renewing their rivalry in the $50,000 Massachusetts Handicap, a week from this coming Wednesday at Suffolk Downs.

Suffolk Downs to permit horses stabled at Lincoln to run at its session.

The disagreements between the rival groups of horsemen were brought to a head last week by the pressured withdrawal of Boston Man in a race at Suffolk Downs last Thursday and the extended fishing excursion of the horsemen.

C. C. Tanner's Nearway, hero of the $15,000 Youthful Stakes on April 30 at Jamaica, is en route from New York to compete in Saturday's $10,000 Miles Standish Stakes at the Downs . . . Andy's Glory's status as a starter in the big weekend juvenile feature will be determined in a serious workout today. If the big colt works well, he will definitely go in the five and a half furlong race.

T. C. Melrose and his son Harry will pack their bags on Wednesday and hie for Lexington, Ky., to await the opening of the Keeneland yearling sales. The Melroses will be joined at a later date by Irv (Tarzan) Gushen and Al (Julius) Shlager, who both will enjoy the Melrose hospitality to its fullest extent.

Apprentice Johnny Huggins, who suffered a fractured ankle, will be discharged from the hospital some time this week and will recuperate on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Sylvester, Jr., owners of the Prisoje Stable, and holders of the lad's contract. . . . Apprentice Charlie Mullins, who had a fractured vertebrae, has been discharged from the hospital and will resume saddle work in about six days. . . . Ray Stricklin, who recently suffered a broken collar bone, will be out of action for at least three months, according to track physician, Dr. Tom Wallace.

Tatro Leads Midget Racers at Medford Bowl

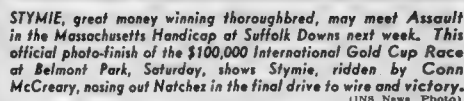

The only man able to pin a defeat on Bill Schindler this season, Tatro will be gunning for Wednesday night's top award.

Providence Man Wins Speedboat Battle

VALLEYFIELD, Que., July 21
(AP)—Close to 50,000 spectators saw Jed Hanley of Providence, R. I., win the feature event yesterday at the two-day speedboat races staged by the Valleyfield Yacht Club on Bay St. Francis.

Local residents are betting on Capt. Billy Tower to capture a prize or two; he has already harpooned an even dozen tuna this year, top catch weighing around 700 pounds. Capt. Tower, his craft, "Isabelle J." and his crew are now in the waters off Bailey Island, seeking out the "hot spots" of the giant finny folk.

Mike Strater, well-known sportsman and tuna angler, has his boat, "Bluefin II," in Perkins Cove, ready to head for the tourney this week, with other entrants en route, too.

Among the commercial fishermen who have been doing well are Norman Brasier, of this town; and Prescott Moody, Wells. The latter having ironed several tons of the tasty tuna during his career.

"Everyone seems to be excited about tuna this year," Charles Adams, harbor master, told us. "Numerous parties come to the cove looking for boats to take 'em sport fishing, but the boys are usually too busy trying to hook the fish for market. However, a good many groups have gone out bottom fishing, returning with hundreds of pounds of flounders, cod, haddock and pollock." Arthur Hans Woburn hooked a 42-pound cod.

ANGLING ANGLES: Accompanied by Gardner Dean, of West Newton, we essayed a bit of surf casting from the rolling beach and 'twas real fun to wade into the booming breakers. We were anxious chiefly to get some more practice with our new beryllium copper rod, finding that we can obtain longer casts when using a feathered jig. The scattered strippers and weakfish—said to be in the surf—failed to strike, but we were happy; our backlashes decreased.

From other anglers, we learned that fair-sized striped bass are being taken from the Gen. Sullivan bridge, which spans the Piscataqua river, near Portsmouth, N. H. They also stated that the Saco river, in Maine, has been yielding bass . . . There are plenty of handliners in this vicinity, and we say large numbers of the "sinker dunker" fraternity, enjoying their sport in various creeks and inlets.

Dick Casey Club and the Boston Colored Giants will play a five-inning ball game, as part of the sports program for the annual Mayor's Charity Field Day, to be held on Thursday night, from 6:30 to 11 p. m., at Braves Field.

Boston's beloved Will "Cannonball" Jackman, 54 years young will pitch for the Giants, and Jackman will be received by his equally-lamed battery mate of the last 25 years, Berlin White. With a combined age of 106 years, it is the oldest active battery in baseball according to Penal Institutions Commissioner Maxwell B. Grossman, this year's chairman of the Field Day, who arranged the tilt between the two best-known semi-pro ball clubs in New Boston's "Mr. Trac Field," and a member of the committee that is running the field day, has arranged to have Karl Joyce, Boston's own national schoolboy mile champion from Chicago, race the winner, race in a special mile, arranged a picked field of milers. An old-fashioned tug-of-war, between two teams made up of Marine recruits and one of the Boston Fire Dept., known as "Codman's Crushers," all of whom weigh over 250 each, will be included in the 5-hour program.

The 1934 day of 18th Charley Field Day, this year, to be held under the Braves' lights, will be devoted to the purchase of artificial limbs, glass eyes, hearing aids, and dental and eye appliances for inmates of the city institutions and welfare recipients.

JIM RUSSELL, center-fielder of the Pittsburgh Pirates, out at home in the second inning of yesterday's game with the Braves at the Wigwam. The Braves made it a double play when Frankie Gusline of Pittsburgh was thrown out at first and the relay to catcher Hank Camelli of the Tribe was in time to nip Russell coming in from third.

Park League Play-offs Are Billed Only Two Weeks Away

Two weeks from tonight, opening rounds of the Park League playoffs will begin, and from now down to the finish line fights for the first four places in each division, will be the most bitter in years. In this two week period, all managers must complete eligibility of their players, so that the fans will see a parade of ballplayers each night, to get those ten games on the record.

Brookline Sign, after taking over third place in the East Division early this month, missed ousting the Artesani Club from second last Friday, when the men of letters were buried 17-2 by Gould Oil, in the upset of the evening. Artesani bowed to Dick Casey at the same time, increasing Dick's lead over the Hyde Square N. E. W. Hyde Square's new hurler from Somerville, Jimmy Wilson, set back West Roxbury on Thursday for his third win in as many starts, and Jimmy may possibly pitch Dave Campbell club into the playoffs. Hal Crosby and Gould Oil are locked in fourth place in the West, and tonight each will try for exclusive possession, with Hal sending Joey McDermott after Rosalinda Royals at Fallon Field, while Gould Oil will be making a home stand at American Legion against the Artesani.

The race has become so close in the East Division, for second, third and fourth spots, with Artesani, Brookline Sign and Dick Casey bunched at .667, .657 and .636, in that order, and with Hyde Square still very much in the race, anything can happen. To return to the winning group, Chick Artesani will send Eddie Barry, fastballer and Bruins' and Olympics' hockey player from Wellesley, against the Oilers to tonight.

Boston Giants and Linehan Club, battling all year for first in the West, meet tonight at Carter, where the great Will Fitzgibbon will toe the mound, opposed by young all-scholarship, Normie Fitzgerald, for Linehan.

Hole-in-One Shot for Dorchester's MacNeil

Pete MacNeil of Dorchester sank a hole-in-one at the 135-yard sixth hole at Man-A-Minnet golf course in Lexington yesterday. MacNeil, playing with his brother Steve and Wes Burke of South Boston, aced the hole with a 2-iron. His score for the 18 was 85. MacNeil was rewarded with a season pass to the Lexington course. His ace was the first in nine years at this links.

Owners In Own Show

RAYNHAM PARK, July 21—Racing Secretary Leo Hartwell is arranging for the second race in the Massachusetts owner's series which will be run here this week. The first such event last week was fraught with fine racing and proved most attractive to the patrons as well as to the greyhound owners themselves. The class of hounds running this week will be slightly better than those who participated in the first such event.

In the meanwhile the second flight of hot box stars has another inning tonight with Bob Bell's Never's Image and Charring Cross among the select in the eight box lot. This octet provided a stirring race on Friday night with lapping Harvest upsetting the apple cart.

42 Marshall Proves Real Help to Giants' Attack

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP)—Mel Ott, the home run king of the National League, no longer stomps around in the right field sector of the Polo Grounds where he roamed for more than 20 years, but New York Giants fans hardly know the difference.

Were it not for the heavier and taller frame and the absence of that familiar pawing of the turf, it would appear that Ott was still at his old post, judging by the way Willard Marshall, Mel's successor in right field, has been slamming those home runs.

And from the looks of things, the blond-haired, husky 26-year-old native of Manchester, Va., will be hitting those home runs for the Giants for a long time to come.

Marshall's already cracked 25 out of the park this season—more than he did in his first two years with the club—and trails only his teammate, Johnny Mize, in the four base department. Mize has hit 27 home runs.

Will enjoyed his best day of his career last Friday when in a night game against Cincinnati, he bashed three successive home runs, two with a man on base, to drive in five runs and lead the Giants to an 8-3 victory. Only nine other National League batters since the turn of the century have been able to hit three successive homers in a game.

Willard is the middle man of the Giants' terrific trio of Mize, Marshall and Walker Cooper, which has been slaughtering enemy pitching this season. Through games of Sunday, this murderous threesome has smashed 72 home runs and has driven in 214 runs with Marshall showing the way with 74 RBIs. Keeping pace with this trio is rookie centerfielder Bobby Thomson who has swatted 18 home runs and driven in 52 runs.

With Will, a left-handed cawing, showing he can sock left handed pitchers with the same amount of gusto as right handers, enemy pitchers are more careful pitching to Mize, who precedes Marshall in the batting order.

Early in the season, when the pitchers didn't know better, they walked Mize in a tight spot preferring to take their chances with the Blind Bomber. But like the Charleston and Black Bottom, they just don't do it any more.

Shurman Leads His Providence Team to Win
PROVIDENCE, July 21 (AP)—With Pete Shurman collecting four hits, including his 14th home of the season with one aboard, the Providence Chiefs scored a 10 to 4 victory over the Manchester Giants in a New England League game at Cranston Stadium. Ray Bloemker hurled 5-hit ball for the Chiefs, who batted out 16 hits against two Manchester hurlers.

Phil Daley also homered for Providence, while Milt Ticco, Chiefs' new first baseman, lost a four-bagger when he failed to touch home plate after driving the ball out of the park.

Soviet Track Marks Broken Before 70,000
MOSCOW (AP)—Record-breaking performances highlighted a parade of 30,000 athletes in Dynamo Stadium as Russia staged its second sports pageant of the year before 70,000 spectators, including Prime Minister Joseph Stalin.

While Lord Burghley of Britain, president of the International Amateur Athletic Federation, and other foreign athletic officials looked on as guests of the Soviet committee on athletics, the Russians claimed a new world weight lifting record and broke three of their national foot-racing marks.

HOW THE STARS DID

By the Associated Press

TED WILLIAMS, Red Sox
—Went hitless but drew a walk and scored in four times at bat in the opener won by the Browns 4-3; walked twice and got two doubles and a single in five times at bat in the second game, also won by Browns 7-6.

ENOS SLAUGHTER, Cardinals
—Failed to hit in four times at bat, but drew a walk and scored one of the Cards' two runs in 3-2 defeat by Brooklyn.

JOE DIMAGGIO, Yankees
—Tripled and scored the Yankees' only run in the first game which went to the Tigers 4-1; got three singles in five times at bat in the second game, also won by Detroit 12-1, and took over the league's batting leadership with a .340 average.

WALKER COOPER, Giants
—Got one of the seven hits off Ewell Blackwell, a slugger in four times at bat as the Reds won 4-1; did not play in the nightcap.
LOU BODREAU, Indians
—Went hitless in four times at bat against Mickey Haefner in the first game, won by Washington 1-0; got two singles in four times at bat and scored twice as Cleveland won the second game 6-1.

JACKIE ROBINSON, Dodgers —Went hitless in four times at bat by Jim Hearn in Brooklyn's 3-2 win over the Cards.

Yank Gals Capture Paris Semi-Finals

PARIS (AP)—Mrs. Pat Todd of Hidden Valley, Cal., came from behind and upset defending champion Margaret Osborne of San Francisco, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4, yesterday to advance into the final round in the all-American women's singles of the French International tennis championships.

Mrs. Todd will meet Doris Hart of Miami, Fla., today for the crown. Miss Hart gained the final round by defeating Louise Brown of Beverly Hills, Cal., in straight sets Saturday.

Later, Miss Osborne teamed with Miss Brough and the duo defeated Miss Hart and Mrs. Todd, 7-4, 6-2 to retain their doubles title.

Budge Patty, "giant killer" of the Wimbledon tournament, advanced to the third round of the men's singles by downing Jack Barry of New Zealand, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, 5-7, and 6-4.

Pittsburgh May Trade Dudley to Detroit

PITTSBURGH, July 21 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers last night indicated they have given up hope that William (Bullet Bill) Dudley will play pro football here next fall by seeking to trade the 1947 National League ground gainer to the Detroit Lions.

Steelers officials discussed a trade with Lion bigwig without reaching any conclusion or announcing whether cash or other players were offered in return for the former University of Virginia star.

Dudley, now an assistant football coach at his alma mater, has announced his retirement and reportedly has refused increased Steeler offers, reportedly as high as $20,000 per season. A trade presumably would be contingent upon Dudley's willingness to play elsewhere than Pittsburgh where he had developed a close personal friendship with Steeler owner Art Rooney.

Stymie-Assault Duel Urged by All Turf Fans

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP)—The holler was out today for Stymie, Armed and Assault to get together and settle all the horse arguments for the year, before the merry-go-round breaks down from the way they've had it spinning here lately.

What with the Texas terros, Stymie and Assault, passing the world money-winning championship back and forth in the East every Saturday, and Chicago she-nanigans Armed has been kicking up, its practically worth your life—or a good wallop in the beeper, anyway—to walk into your favorite soda shoppe and tab your favorite as the champ out loud.

There just won't be any 1947 turf champion unless and until they tangle somewhere on the same race track. You hear talk that this might be in the Washington Park Handicap in Chicago or the Massachusetts Special at Suffolk this summer. But it's more likely to be in the Pimlico Special in November in Maryland. Somehow Alf Vanderbilt and Harry Parr are as lucky as six and five on a pair of dice in landing these red-hot ones down at Hilltop every fall.

Up to last Saturday, Assault looked like the glamor boy with no argument, what with seven straight wins, five of them over Stymie, and the world money-winning title to boot. Then Stymie whipped him over the weekend in the first running of the new turf world series—the Empire City International Gold Cup at Belmont—and won the cash crown back again. From the way the Gold Cup made its debut, incidentally, it figures to be the fanciest race in the horse world before very long.

Meantime, Armed, barred from the Gold Cup because it won't let geldings play with the other horses, stayed out in his own backyard and smacked in with the Arlington Handicap to move up past his old Calumet Farm sidekick, Whirlaway, into the No. 3 slot among the world's bankroll boys.

Here's the way the money men stand now.

Injured in Crash—Holding her injured face, Jane Madden, Queensbury st., Back Bay, is placed on a stretcher by police for emergency trip to the City Hospital after collision (see below) between convertible coupe and Boston police cruiser. Wrecked private car ended up against house, throwing Marie Flaherty, 21, of D st., South Boston, to the curbstone.

Aids Wife

The impact of an automobile accident strikes home to Patrolman Patrick Murphy, of Nassau County police, N. Y., as he bends over his injured wife, Dorothy, 24, while awaiting an ambulance. They were en route to their Williston Park, N. Y., home after he had completed duty. The car struck a tree.
